'You Auto Buy Now' Campaign Launched

"You Auto Buy Now".

A campaign to keep Circleville's economy healthy gets underway tonight as the nine local automobile dealers meet to launch a "buy now" drive.

The auto dealers hope the movement spreads to all other local businesses.

Taking the theme "You Auto Buy Now", the dealers plan a series of events aimed at getting Circleville and Pickaway County residents to use available cash now to bolster business activity.

Heading up the drive is Bonner Ezell, president of the Circleville New Car Dealers Assn. Association members are Clifton Motor Sales, Circleville Motors, Flanagan Motors, Wes Edstrom, Harden Chevrolet, Ed Helwagen, Joe Moats, Pickaway Motors and Yates Buick. On the drive committee are Adrian Yates, Jack Clifton and Ned Harden.

Tonight the dealers and their salesmen will meet in the Wes Edstrom showroom to plan further details of the campaign. Speaker will be Leroy Slusser, head of the Circleville office of the Prudential Insurance Co.

One of the first acts of the car dealers will be to pay all auto agency employes in silver dollars this week. They want Circleville and Pickaway County residents to know how much money originates in the nine local auto agencies.

President Eisenhower hailed the "You Auo Buy Now" ampaign as a step in shoring up the economy which has been slipping in the last few months. He said "I believe...that the upturn of our economy will be the result of millions of itizens making their purchases, having greater confidence."

The campaign to spur the economy is backed locally by the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce, all Pickaway County banks and financial institutions, Pickaway County Insurance Agents Assn. and The Circleville Herald.

No New Leads On Bank Theft

Sheriff Checking Old Information

There were no new leads today in the Commercial Point bank robbery.

Pickaway County Sheriff Charles Radcliff said today that he and his staff is still checking out information obtained immediately after the robbery Tuesday.

Two silk stocking bandits held up the small country bank at about 1:15 p. m. Tuesday, getting away with $3,892. They locked bank employes, O. M. Beckett, ashier, and Mrs. Frank Kauffeld, assistant cashier, in the vault and drove away.

The getaway car was found about three miles from Commercial Point where the robbers apparently transferred to a second car. It was checked yesterday by the Bureau of Criminal investigation and Identification from London.

No good clues were found on or in the car which was stolen Tuesday from a parking lot in Columbus.

* * *

YESTERDAY Radcliff returned to Commercial Point to question Beckett and Mrs. Kauffeld again in an effort to learn more about the robbery.

The pair did not see the car drive away from the bank since they were locked in the vault. Commercial Point residents and those living along the road the bandits apparently took out of town have had nothing to report to the sheriff.

Two men, working along Route 762 just prior to the holdup, have reported seeing two cars and two men, parked along the road about 1 p. m. The sheriff is working on that angle of the crime now.

Also working toward solution are the Federal Bureau of Investigation and Columbus Police Department.

FLO GOLDSCHMIDT

JO GOLDSCHMIDT

Goldschmidt Sisters Named Senior Class Honor Scholars

Twin sisters, Flo and Jo Goldschmidt, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. David Goldschmidt, 901 Atwater Ave. have been named valedictorian and salutatorian of the Senior Class at Circleville High School.

They will participate in baccalaureate and commencement exercises at the local school later this month.

Flo was named valedictorian by posting a top-flight 3.991 grade average in her four years at Circleville High School. Jo's grade average for the period was an excellent 3.945. Perfect grades would be 4.0.

The two class honors are earned strictly on grade average.

Baccalaureate services are planned for the Senior Class at 8 p.m. May 25 in Trinity Lutheran Church. Commencement exercises will be at 8 p.m. May 28 in the high school gym.

The Logan Elm Board of Education will hear an option proposal at its meeting tonight in the Pickaway Twp. school, for purchase of 35 acres of land for the Logan Elm consolidated school site, according to the board's clerk, Neil Morris, Route 1, Kingston.

The land proposed is on the Raymond and Mildred Moats farm located on the Circleville Tarlton Pike, two miles east of Thatcher The option was set up yesterday by Clerk Morris.

Members of the Logan Elm board are Dow West, president, Dr. Wells Wilson, Frank Graves, S. G. Measamar and W. A. Beougher.

Five Injured In Automobile Accidents

Hurt were Donald L. McCain, 22, Route 4; Mrs. Mary Rose McCain, 22, same address; Kenneth R. White, 34, of 502 Springhollow Road; Mrs. Ruby Brown, 64, Route 3, and Carlos Brown, 69, Route 3.

Most seriously hurt was Mrs. McCain who suffered a broken leg and is now in University Hospital, Columbus.

According to Deputy Sheriff Dwight Radcliff, the McCains' were injured when their auto rammed the rear of a truck driven by Kenneth White at the intersection of Route 188 and Dunkel Road.

The deputy reported that McCain's car smashed into the rear of White's truck as the truck was making a turn onto Dunkel Road. The accident happened at 3 p. m. yesterday. McCain faces a charge of failure to stop within an assured clear distance ahead.

* * *

McCAIN suffered a cut over his eye and a bruise on the right leg. White suffered an injury to his left shoulder. All three persons were treated at Berger Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown were hurt at about 12:25 p. m. yesterday along Route 22, two miles west of the Route 104 intersection. Mrs. Brown, the driver, told Radcliff that an oncoming car forced her auto to the side of the road, a wheel went onto the berm and she lost control.

Mrs. Brown was admitted to Berger Hospital suffering from a back injury. Brown received a cut on the forearm.

The defense has pleaded Starkweather innocent by reason of insanity, a plea which Starkweather was reported to be against. But he made no objection.

Star Twinkle Still Mystery To Scientists

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—An ages-old mystery of the heavens that stumped the cavemen turned out just as puzzling to two stratosphere scientists.

Astronomer Alfred Mikesell said his stargazing from a balloon at 40,000 feet did not reveal why stars twinkle.

Mikesell, 44, went up with Navy Cmdr. Malcolm Ross to find out at what levels of the atmosphere the stars stop twinkling. In order to do it he needed a steady fix with his telescope.

But the small fiberglass basket in which he and Ross were perched spun constantly and made precise observation difficult.

At 40,000 feet he found the stars shine steadily. This had been discovered before. What Mikesell hoped to find was the exact altitude at which the earth's atmosphere makes starlight seem to twinkle.

Astronomers generally agree that the twinkling is the result of turbulence in the earth's atmosphere.

Charlie Taft Seen Doing Bill O'Neill Big Political Favor

By ART PARKS
AP Staff Writer

COLUMBUS (AP) — It's possible that Charlie Taft has done Bill O'Neill the biggest favor in all of the governor's 42 years.

But it's just as possible that Taft, by grabbing 36 per cent of the Republican primary vote, has handed the Democrats that club with which they can beat O'Neill into a political pulp.

Democratic State Chairman William L. Coleman already has taken one roundhouse swing with the statement that Taft's big taly was "unprecedented as a protest vote against an incumbent officeholder."

When Taft got into the race for the gubernatorial nomination, after O'Neill's mild heart attack of Last Jan. 22, the governor asked the Cincinnatian to remove himself. Taft declined.

Many observers now believe that was the nicest thing Taft could have done for O'Neill: Letting O'Neill find out in May that he is in political trouble rather than in November.

* * *

HAD O'NEILL waited until November to find out, it might have been politically fatal,

Taft's decision to stay in the race — painful as it undoubtedly was to O'Neill and his aides—gives O'Neill six months to repair his political fences.

The statistics show Taft took 198,445 Republican votes away from O'Neill in the primary. Those are nearly 200,000 votes O'Neill cannot afford to lose in his November race against Democrat Michael V. DiSalle of Toledo.

O'Neill defeated DiSalle by 427,000 votes in 1956. A switch of 200,000 votes would cut his edge to 27,000. And, as Ohio elections go, a 27,000 edge is peanuts.

At least for public consumption, O'Neill is inclined to pooh-pooh the heavy Taft vote.

"It was just about what I anticipated," O'Neill said. He added he believed Ohioans' familiarity with Taft's name was responsible for Taft's drawing power rather than any criticism of the O'Neill administration.

Democrats were frankly and gleefully agog at the size of the Taft vote. Cheered by the fact that nearly 200,000 Republicans saw fit to desert first-term Gov. O'Neill at the ballot box, they were inclined to pay little heed to Chairman Coleman's warning against cocksureness that DiSalle is a sure-bet in November.

Now roaringly confident that DiSalle is a shoo-in in November, celebrating Democrats point to the fact that they cast nearly 100,000 more ballots in Tuesday's primary than did the Republicans.

* * *

THAT WAS the first time in years that Democrats outvoted Republicans in a statewide primary.

Republican leaders had little to say about the primary results. But a few pointed out that despite O'Neill's apparent slide in voter favor he still polled nearly 107,000 votes more than DiSalle; that DiSalle won the Democratic nomination in a seven-way race with only 37 per cent of the total Democratic vote.

Ohio Primary Results Bring Glee to Dems

Big Voter Turnout, Taft's High Count Booming Confidence

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio's primary election brought glee to Democrats scenting victory next November but failed to daunt Republicans entrenched in major offices.

Complete Associated Press returns from Tuesday's voting in generally cold, wet weather showed nearly 100,000 more Democrats than Republicans turned out for the first time in recent years to assure another O'Neill-DiSalle race for governor.

A total of 643,795 Democrats and 546,241 Republicans accounted for 1,190,036 votes in the gubernatorial races for a new primary high in a non-presidential year. The previous high was 1,182,610 in 1954.

Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill polled 346,718 votes and Democrat Michael V. DiSalle 241,536 this year. But Democrats asserted the circumstances indicated O'Neill faces a different kind of battle next fall than two years ago when he beat DiSalle by a margin of 427,885 votes.

* * *

CHARLES P. TAFT, the 1952 GOP gubernatorial nominee, took 198,445 votes away from O'Neill this year without personal campaigning although friends were active in his behalf.

Taft, brother of the late U. S. Sen. Robert A. Taft, said he merely stood by in event O'Neill might be forced to step aside although pronounced recovered from a heart attack last Jan. 22.

Democrats termed the Taft vote an unprecedented protest against an incumbent officeholder. But they warned against over-confidence "despite this striking lack of faith in the present administration."

O'Neill said the Taft total was about what he expected. He called it a tribute to Taft's reputation rather than criticism of his own (O'Neill's) administration.

Democrats were not alone in labeling the Taft rally as a protest against O'Neill. Taft's aide in the Cleveland area, Howard I. Chesler, said the same and warned that in the November campaign Republicans must wage "that kind of campaign which will appeal not only to those who voted for the governor, but also to the many who voted for Mr. Taft."

GI Pay Hike Seen Getting OK by House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House is expected to pass soon a compromise military pay raise bill aimed at encouraging trained service personnel to stay in the armed forces.

A Senate-House conference committee reached agreement on the compromise, which is in line with President Eisenhower's recommendations.

Virtually all service personnel with at least two years in uniform would get pay boosts ranging from 6 per cent to 60 per cent. The bigger increases would go to generals, admirals and other top rankers. The increased benefits would apply to reserve and retired personnel.

In its first year, the bill would cost an estimated $576,400,000. This compromise is much like the version originally passed by the Senate and carries pay boosts generally smaller than those in the House bill, which would have cost $683 million the first year.

After the House acts on the compromise, it will go to the Senate.

Diplomatic Lingo Used on Chemise

DURHAM, N. H. (AP) — Former Secretary of State Dean Acheson threw diplomacy to the wind today and criticized chemise dresses.

"There are fashions in everything, even in horrors, as the appearance of the chemise dress makes us acutely aware," he said in a University of New Hampshire lecture on "A Study in Diplomatic Method."

"By the couturier's alchemy," he told a student audience, "our most curvaceous charmers are turned into bags of Idaho's famous product — potatoes."

NEW TEAM MEMBER — Arthur S. Flemming (left), president of Ohio Wesleyan university, said he is "highly honored" to be named successor to Marion B. Folsom as secretary of Health, Education and Welfare. The Ohio educator is conferring with James Davis, chairman of a congressional committee looking into civil service problems.

GOP Campaigners May Shun Ike Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — It appears unlikely voters will hear many Republicans campaigning for reelection this fall on the basis of support for President Eisenhower's defense reorganization, foreign aid and reciprocal trade programs.

Although Eisenhower has indicated their record on these proposals may determine whether he tried to aid individual congressional candidates, political leaders generally expect economic conditions to become the prime issue.

Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt) said that despite the President's emphasis on national programs, he thinks most GOP candidates and their Democratic opponents will "campaign on their claims of what they can do for their states or districts."

"I think the value of any endorsement by the chief executive is overrated," Aiken said. "The voters resent having anyone tell them what they ought to do."

* * *

EISENHOWER told a Republican meeting Tuesday night he would do his best for all Republicans "and for all others" who support his program. The reference to "all others" brought speculation he might tend to support some Democrats over Republican aspirants.

As for solons who support his program, Eisenhower Wednesday stood firm regarding his embattled reciprocal trade policy. He took an all-or-nothing stand, rebuffing appeals for a compromise.

Faced with mounting congressional pressures for a return to high tariff protectionist trade policies, House leaders called in administration spokesmen to find a saving compromise.

But after an hour-long conference with House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, Secretary of the Interior Weeks reported "no agreement on anything. We sent up a bill we believe in and we still want the bill."

Although Weeks gave no indications of yielding, both Rayburn and House Republican Leader Joseph Martin of Massachusetts indicated a compromise is possible.

Rayburn, veteran of nearly a quarter century of battles in support of reciprocal world trade, announced grimly: "We're going to get a bill. We've got to get a bill."

* * *

BUT HE ALSO acknowledged that chances for the President's program "didn't show up too well" in a poll of the 232 House Democrats. Reports indicated little more than a third of them would back the program as it is. Strong Republican opposition also has become apparent.

The President wants a five-year extension of the 24-year-old New Deal Trade Agreements Act, and additional authority to lower tariffs another 25 per cent in negotiating trade agreements.

Man in Satellite Claimed Unneeded

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — What would be gained by sending a man into space?

Very little, aside from prestige, Dr. Lee A. Dubridge said Wednesday. The president of California Institute of Technology said a satellite passenger would be "an unmitigatel nuisance."

"As long as you are measuring things like some cosmic rays, magnetic fields, gravity effects, radio transmission effects, astronomical effects, etc., automatic instruments are necessary anyway, and the human being is quite an unnecessary encumbrance," he said.

Reuther Tags Ike Regime as 'Do-Nothing'

CLEVELAND (AP)—"We need action now—action that only the federal government can provide," Walter Reuther told 2,270 cheering delegates to the Ohio AFL-CIO convention Wednesday.

The United Automobile Workers president, who also is a national vice president of the AFL-CIO, criticized the Eisenhower administration for what he termed its "do-nothing" policy and "wait-and-see" attitude on proposals to curb the recession and provide work for millions of unemployed.

"The fire now is in the basements, and if we don't put it out it will spread to the attic. Then we'll be in real trouble," Reuther said.

The delegates from 799 unions in Ohio representing one million members earlier in the day had merged into one body. It is the 37th state to merge since the two labor groups consummated a union on a national scale 2½ years ago and is the first big industrial state to unite.

Reuther drew his biggest cheers when he directed verbal barbs at the National Assn. of Manufacturers. He accused the group of being mainly responsible for the administration's "do-nothing" policy.

Addressing the convention today, William F. Schnitzler, AFL-CIO secretary-treasurer, blamed Gov. C. William O'Neill for the holeup in the payment of supplemental unemployment benefits in Ohio.

"By what logic, by what yardstick of decency, does this governor operate?" he asked. "I know not. I do know that his actions have only caused hardship."

Soviets' Real Goal Said To Be Big Power

German Parliament Told Reds Seek Tie With Chinese Military

BERLIN (AP) — U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles accused the Soviet Union today of using disarmament talk as a smokescreen to produce a world dominated by the military power of the Chinese-Soviet bloc.

He warned the West against abandoning its nuclear deterrent shield because of what he called alluring Soviet promises. He declared Soviet failure to honor international pledges constitutes a grave obstacle to working out an East-West accord.

Dulles made his attack on the Kremlin in a speech before West Berlin's Parliament.

The Communists in neighboring East Berlin called for demonstrations during his 5½-hour visit in West Berlin. From here, Dulles goes to Paris for a meeting of U.S. ambassadors.

Dulles flew into Communist encircled West Berlin direct from a meeting of North Atlantic Treaty Organization foreign ministers at Copenhagen. The NATO ministers agreed to invite the Soviet Union anew to create machinery for safe, controlled disarmament.

* * *

DULLES CALLED for dependable steps to reduce the prospect of war and elimination of the new weapons which threaten humanity with virtual extinction.

He warned against "confidence in mere Soviet Communist promises" and added:

"The Soviet Union professes not to want to use (nuclear weapons, but insists upon continuing at a feverish pace to multiply such weapons in its own arsenals. It calls on the free world to rely upon Soviet promises not to use its nuclear weapons in the event of war despite the long record of broken promises to which I have alluded.

"This Communist propaganda line is designed to produce a world dominated by the military power of the Sino-Soviet bloc. Freedom would have no adequate defense. There is a duty to look behind words that sound alluring and to see and reject the underlying plot against freedom."

Dulles reaffirmed the Western Big Three pledge to regard any attack against Berlin from any quarter as an attack upon their forces and upon themselves.

The secretary made his speech as Germans quietly observed the 13th anniversary observance of V-E Day, when World War II ended in Europe.

The East German party organ, Neues Deutschland, kicked off the campaign for a demonstration under the slogan: "Chase Dulles out of Berlin."

"Workers will see to it that the American foreign minister learns the true opinion of the city," Neues Deutschland said. The paper charged Dulles was flying here to stir up opposition to a summit conference and create an atomic-war atmosphere.

Broken Back Fails To Stop Girl, 16

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — For two miles Mary Morris, her back broken in two places, pulled herself with bleeding hands toward the shelter of home. Her trip to life took four hours.

While hiking alone on a rugged mountain trail, Mary fell 20 feet into a creek bed and her back snapped at two places near the waistline. Her calls for help were answered only by echoes.

She started pulling herself toward her home. Today she is recuperating in a Juneau hospital. The 16-year-old daughter of Juneau boatbuilder Lee Morris is encased in a cast.

"I think the value of any endorsement by the chief executive is overrated," Aiken said. "The voters resent having anyone tell them what they ought to do."

EISENHOWER told a Republican meeting Tuesday night he would do his best for all Republicans "and for all others" who support his program. The reference to "all others" brought speculation he might tend to support some Democrats over Republican aspirants.

As for solons who support his program, Eisenhower Wednesday stood firm regarding his embattled reciprocal trade policy. He took an all-or-nothing stand, rebuffing appeals for a compromise.

Faced with mounting congressional pressures for a return to high tariff protectionist trade policies, House leaders called in administration spokesmen to find a saving compromise.

But after an hour-long conference with House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, Secretary of the Interior Weeks reported "no agreement on anything. We sent up a bill we believe in and we still want the bill."

Although Weeks gave no indications of yielding, both Rayburn and House Republican Leader Joseph Martin of Massachusetts indicated a compromise is possible.

Rayburn, veteran of nearly a quarter century of battles in support of reciprocal world trade, announced grimly: "We're going to get a bill. We've got to get a bill."

• • •

BUT HE ALSO acknowledged that chances for the President's program "didn't show up too well" in a poll of the 232 House Democrats. Reports indicated little more than a third of them would back the program as it is. Strong Republican opposition also has become apparent.

The President wants a five-year extension of the 24-year-old New Deal Trade Agreements Act, and additional authority to lower tariffs another 25 per cent in negotiating trade agreements.

Reuther Tags Ike Regime as 'Do-Nothing'

CLEVELAND (AP)—"We need action now—action that only the federal government can provide," Walter Reuther told 2,270 cheering delegates to the Ohio AFL-CIO convention Wednesday.

The United Automobile Workers president, who also is a national vice president of the AFL-CIO, criticized the Eisenhower administration for what he termed its "do-nothing" policy and "wait-and-see" attitude on proposals to curb the recession and provide work for millions of unemployed.

"The fire now is in the basements, and if we don't put it out it will spread to the attic. Then we'll be in real trouble," Reuther said.

The delegates from 799 unions in Ohio representing one million members earlier in the day had merged into one body. It is the 37th state to merge since the two labor groups consummated a union on a national scale 2½ years ago and is the first big industrial state to unite.

Reuther drew his biggest cheers when he directed verbal barbs at the National Assn. of Manufacturers. He accused the group of being mainly responsible for the administration's "do-nothing" policy.

Addressing the convention today, William F. Schnitzler, AFL-CIO secretary-treasurer, blamed Gov. C. William O'Neill for the holeup in the payment of supplemental unemployment benefits in Ohio.

"By what logic, by what yardstick of decency, does this governor operate?" he asked. "I know not. I do know that his actions have only caused hardship."

No New Leads On Bank Theft

Sheriff Checking Old Information

There were no new leads today in the Commercial Point bank robbery.

Pickaway County Sheriff Charles Radcliff said today that he and his staff is still checking out information obtained immediately after the robbery Tuesday.

Two silk stocking bandits held up the small country bank at about 1:15 p. m. Tuesday, getting away with $3,892. They locked bank employes, O. M. Beckett, ashier, and Mrs. Frank Kauffeld, assistant cashier, in the vault and drove away.

The getaway car was found about three miles from Commercial Point where the robbers apparently transferred to a second car. It was checked yesterday by the Bureau of Criminal investigation and Identification from London.

No good clues were found on or in the car which was stolen Tuesday from a parking lot in Columbus.

• • •

YESTERDAY Radcliff returned to Commercial Point to question Beckett and Mrs. Kauffeld again in an effort to learn more about the robbery.

The pair did not see the car drive away from the bank since they were locked in the vault. Commercial Point residents and those living along the road the bandits apparently took out of town have had nothing to report to the sheriff.

Two men, working along Route 762 just prior to the holdup, have reported seeing two cars and two men, parked along the road about 1 p. m. The sheriff is working on that angle of the crime now.

Also working toward solution are the Federal Bureau of Investigation and Columbus Police Department.

Star Twinkle Still Mystery To Scientists

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—An ages-old mystery of the heavens that stumped the cavemen turned out just as puzzling to two stratosphere scientists.

Astronomer Alfred Mikesell said his stargazing from a balloon at 40,000 feet did not reveal why stars twinkle.

Mikesell, 44, went up with Navy Cmdr. Malcolm Ross to find out at what levels of the atmosphere the stars stop twinkling. In order to do it he needed a steady fix with his telescope.

But the small fiberglass basket in which he and Ross were perched spun constantly and made precise observation difficult.

At 40,000 feet he found the stars shine steadily. This had been discovered before. What Mikesell hoped to find was the exact altitude at which the earth's atmosphere makes starlight seem to twinkle.

Astronomers generally agree that the twinkling is the result of turbulence in the earth's atmosphere.

FLO GOLDSCHMIDT

JO GOLDSCHMIDT

Goldschmidt Sisters Named Senior Class Honor Scholars

Twin sisters, Flo and Jo Goldschmidt, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. David Goldschmidt, 901 Atwater Ave. have been named valedictorian and salutatorian of the Senior Class at Circleville High School.

They will participate in baccalaureate and commencement exercises at the local school later this month.

Flo was named valedictorian by posting a top-flight 3.991 grade average in her four years at Circleville High School. Jo's grade average for the period was an excellent 3.945, Perfect grades would be 4.0.

The two class honors are earned strictly on grade average.

Baccalaureate services are planned for the Senior Class at 8 p.m. May 25 in Trinity Lutheran Church. Commencement exercises will be at 8 p.m. May 28 in the high school gym.

Logan Elm Board Eyes School Site

The Logan Elm Board of Education will hear an option proposal at its meeting tonight in the Pickaway Twp. school, for purchase of 35 acres of land for the Logan Elm consolidated school site, according to the board's clerk, Neil Morris, Route 1, Kingston.

The land proposed is on the Raymond and Mildred Moats farm located on the Circleville Tarlton Pike, two miles east of Thatcher The option was set up yesterday by Clerk Morris.

Members of the Logan Elm board are Dow West, president, Dr. Wells Wilson, Frank Graves, S. G. Measamar and W. A. Beoughter.

Five Injured In Automobile Accidents

Hurt were Donald L. McCain, 22, Route 4; Mrs. Mary Rose McCain, 22, same address; Kenneth R. White, 34, of 502 Springhollow Road; Mrs. Ruby Brown, 64, Route 3, and Carlos Brown, 69, Route 3.

Most seriously hurt was Mrs. McCain who suffered a broken leg and is now in University Hospital, Columbus.

According to Deputy Sheriff Dwight Radcliff, the McCains' were injured when their auto rammed the rear of a truck driven by Kenneth White at the intersection of Route 188 and Dunkel Road.

The deputy reported that McCain's car smashed into the rear of White's truck as the truck was making a turn onto Dunkel Road. The accident happened at 3 p. m. yesterday. McCain faces a charge of failure to stop within an assured clear distance ahead.

• • •

McCAIN suffered a cut over his eye and a bruise on the right leg. White suffered an injury to his left shoulder. All three persons were treated at Berger Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown were hurt at about 12:25 p. m. yesterday along Route 22, two miles west of the Route 104 intersection. Mrs. Brown, the driver, told Radcliff that an oncoming car forced her auto to the side of the road, a wheel went onto the berm and she lost control.

Mrs. Brown was admitted to Berger Hospital suffering from a back injury. Brown received a cut on the forearm.

Starkweather Jury Nears Completion

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—A jury to hear the murder trial of Charles Starkweather, who has admitted involvement in 11 slayings, was expected to be seated today.

The defense has pleaded Starkweather innocent by reason of insanity, a plea which Starkweather was reported to be against. But he made no objection.

GI Pay Hike Seen Getting OK by House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House is expected to pass soon a compromise military pay raise bill aimed at encouraging trained service personnel to stay in the armed forces.

A Senate-House conference committee reached agreement on the compromise, which is in line with President Eisenhower's recommendations.

Virtually all service personnel with at least two years in uniform would get pay boosts ranging from 6 per cent to 60 per cent. The bigger increases would go to generals, admirals and other top rankers. The increased benefits would apply to reserve and retired personnel.

In its first year, the bill would cost an estimated $576,400,000. This compromise is much like the version originally passed by the Senate and carries pay boosts generally smaller than those in the House bill, which would have cost $683 million the first year.

After the House acts on the compromise, it will go to the Senate.

Diplomatic Lingo Used on Chemise

DURHAM, N. H. (AP) — Former Secretary of State Dean Acheson threw diplomacy to the wind today and criticized chemise dresses.

"There are fashions in everything, even in horrors, as the appearance of the chemise dress makes us acutely aware," he said in a University of New Hampshire lecture on "A Study in Diplomatic Method."

"By the couturier's alchemy," he told a student audience, "our most curvaceous charmers are turned into bags of Idaho's famous product — potatoes."

Man in Satellite Claimed Unneeded

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — What would be gained by sending a man into space?

Very little, aside from prestige, Dr. Lee A. Dubridge said Wednesday. The president of California Institute of Technology said a satellite passenger would be "an unmitigatel nuisance."

"As long as you are measuring things like some cosmic rays, magnetic fields, gravity effects, radio transmission effects, astronomical effects, etc., automatic instruments are necessary anyway, and the human being is quite an unnecessary encumbrance," he said.

Bill Paid in 18 Years

DALLAS (AP)—A widow paid St. Paul's Hospital $100 for care her husband received 18 years ago, telling the hospital supervisor she had been saving money since then to make the payment.

Broken Back Fails To Stop Girl, 16

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — For two miles Mary Morris, her back broken in two places, pulled herself with bleeding hands toward the shelter of home. Her trip to life took four hours.

While hiking alone on a rugged mountain trail, Mary fell 20 feet into a creek bed and her back snapped at two places near the waistline. Her calls for help were answered only by echoes.

She started pulling herself toward her home. Today she is recuperating in a Juneau hospital. The 16-year-old daughter of Juneau boatbuilder Lee Morris is encased in a cast.

Actor Marries Again

TUNICA, Miss. (AP) — Actor Tyrone Power and Mrs. Deborah Minardos, 26-year-old divorcee, were married here Wednesday. Power, 44, had been married twice before.

'Masked Man' Still Looking For His Horse

CHICAGO (AP)—He was wearing a mask and a sombrero and running down State Street near the Loop Wednesday night, pausing briefly to take a quick look in every doorway.

Naturally, police driving along in two patrol wagons halted and investigated.

"Where do you think you're going?" asked Patrolmen John Doyle and Leo Stanko.

"I'm looking for my black horse," was the reply.

Stanko turned to Doyle and said: "This mysterious fellow's obviously just in from the West, and we'd better take him to the station for questioning."

At nearby Central Station, the captured one identified himself only as Zorro, a television character whose sombrero and mask are among his traditions. The cops didn't believe him—they knew he was only 4.

"My daddy promised me a black horse and I went out to look for him," the boy said as police sought to learn his identity.

An hour later, Eugene Bezroukoff, a salesman, came to the station with his wife and three other sons, 7 to 1 years old, to reclaim his 4-year-old son Ronald.

Bezroukoff explained: He was visiting a friend in a Loop novelty shop when Ronald put on the Zorro hat and mask and ran out into the street. He ran after him but Ronald disappeared in the crowd.

As the family left the station, Doyle slipped Ronald a quarter and told him: "Here, sonny, you can start saving for that horse."

"I'll get him yet!" cried Ronald, galloping into the street.

Board Authorizes Fund Distribution

The Pickaway County Board of Education last night passed a resolution making an equitable distribution of funds and indebtedness of the Washington and Wayne Twp. local school districts.

The resolution will be sent to the Circleville Board of Education for approval and acceptance. The resolution was passed at the county board's regular monthly meeting held in the county superintendent's office at the courthouse.

Votes Bought! Party Heads Deplore Practice in County

By J. I. SMITH
Herald Staff Writer

Tuesday I saw votes bought in Pickaway County.

It took place just outside precinct 4-D, in the Walnut Street School basement.

I saw a voter walk to an automobile parked in an alley across the street from the Washington St. entrance to the school. He obtained a sample ballot from a man sitting in the car. It was explained to him.

His other hand went out and a bill was placed in his palm. He then walked to the voting place.

According to 4-D precinct workers, many persons entered the precinct office with the sample ballot in their hands, but were unable to select their candidate's ballot.

THEY WOULD ask what ballot "so-and-so" was on because that was the man they were supposed to vote for. Some even admitted they were dragged from their homes and herded to the precinct to register their paid vote.

This offense is not new to Pickaway County. There are many persons who have well paying jobs, making as much as $25 or more a day, who lay off work to buy a candidate's votes election day. It is not rare for a vote purchaser to be paid as much as $100 for this work.

Only the so-called undernourished and uneducated areas of Circleville are involved. In the 1st Ward, little or no vote buying is accomplished.

Both Democratic and Republican party chairmen in Pickaway County deplore the practice.

They welcome publicity in hopes that future candidates of both parties will band together to stop vote buying. They feel that few, if any, election results are changed by vote buying.

Party officials say that they don't mind that money is being spent on elections. . .it's the spoiling of America's greatest right and duty that makes the practice so deplorable. In addition, it ruins the election for those honest and dutiful citizens who go to the polls to vote, feeling it's a privilege, they say.

Bids Received By St. Paul's Of Ashville

Bids are being recieved by St. Paul Lutheran Church, near Ashville, for new construction to be added to the present building. The church is engaged in an extensive remodeling and improvement program.

To date, new slate roofs have been built on the ante rooms. Renovation of the old building exterior has been completed with sand-blasting and repoinning to highlight the fine work began nearly a century ago.

Included in the new construction will be an extended chancel, five new class and choir rooms, new heating, lighting and plumbing and restroom facilities as well as a cloister joining the new addition of the Church to the present Parish Hall.

Bids for the new construction are to be in the hands of the Building Committee at 2 p.m. May 20 when they are to be opened. The Building Committee is made up of Paul W. Teegardin, chairman, John Dowler, secretary, and Lester Fridley along with the Pastor, H. A. Tegtmeir.

PLANS have been drawn by Charles Marr of Marr, Knapp and Crawfis, New Philadelphia.

Repair of the old building is under the hands of Jesse Baum, Ira Hoover and King Cremeans.

A grounds committee of Ralph McCain, Neal Brown and Karl Kreiger are working on a new parking lot and driveway made possible by a gift of nearly three-fourths of an acre by the H. M. Crites family. Part of this was required for the Church extension.

Members of St. Paul and interested friends have been responsive to the call for funds to make this improvement and restoration of St. Paul Church.

Stork Stalling Frog Jump Star

ANGELS CAMP, Calif. (AP) — They stared intently at the frog. The frog, its bug-eyed lids half lowered, looked sleepy and unconcerned.

"No question about it," said Dr. Dante L. Alvasio Wednesday, "That frog is pregnant."

This was anything but good news to Bror W. Lander, former Swedish army corporal. He brought the frog, named Rolli, all the way from Stockholm to this onetime gold rush mining camp 110 miles east of San Francisco. Rolli is Sweden's entry in the intrnational frog jump here May 15-18.

"What can we do?" Lander asked anxiously.

"Well, in this delicate condition there isn't much we can do," said Dr. Alvasio, medical officer of the Calaveras County Fair. "We could induce ovulation with an injection from the pituitary gland of another frog."

Ovulation means laying eggs. A frog can lay about 5,000.

"But would it be in time?"

"It would take about a week. As it is, we can't with certainty predict just when this frog will ovulate — maybe before the jump, maybe after."

So Lander went to Turlock, Calif., in the San Joaquin Valley to seek a possible substitute for Rolli. Qualifying jumps in the 32nd Jumping Frog Jubilee begin a week from today and Rolli may be happily laying her eggs then.

Meanwhile, Dr. Alvasio prescribed mild exercise and a diet of hamburger, cooked brown, for the expectant Rolli.

Overloading Brings Fine

Orville Bear, 50, of Elm Grove, probably will think twice next time he tries to economize in his truck hauling business. He received a $131.40 fine today in Circleville Municipal Court for overloading.

Bear was charged with being 5,320 pounds overloaded. He was traveling with a load of lumber on Route 104. Judge Sterling Lamb fined Bear $25 and costs for overloading his straight bed truck and ordered him to pay $2 per hundred pounds for the overloaded weight. Bear had more than 24,000 pounds on his truck.

Others appearing in Municipal Court were Julia May Jones, 30, Columbus, who received a fine of $10 and costs for speeding 70 miles per hour.

Florence B. Slate, 43, Detroit, received a fine of $25 and costs for traveling 75 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone.

William J. Smith, 41, Columbus was fined $10 and costs for driving 70 miles per hour. The arrests were made by the State Highway Patrol.

Charles Keaton, 426 E. Union St., paid $10 and costs for failure to file application for the registration of his dog. Arrest was made on an affidavit filed by Pickaway County Dog Warden Ralph Wallace.

Berger Trial Begins Here

The trial involving Washington C. H. Union Stockyards versus Arthur Berger, Commercial Point, began this morning in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court with Judge William Ammer presiding.

Union Stockyards is suing Berger for a "bouncing check" in the amount of $9,158.74. Berger gave the Stockyards this check on Aug. 14, 1957. It was returned several days later for insufficient funds.

Berger admits writing the check, but denies all other charges. The Union Stockyards is represented by Robert Wright, New Holland, and Berger by Harry Margulis, Ashville.

Berger has four other suits pending against him that have been filed with the county clerk of courts. They are the Scioto Bank, suing for $1,155.68; Washington C. H. Union Stockyards for $2,925.58; and two cases by Herbert Wunder for $15,475.76 and $15,767.60.

'Masked Man' Still Looking For His Horse

CHICAGO (AP)—He was wearing a mask and a sombrero and running down State Street near the Loop Wednesday night, pausing briefly to take a quick look in every doorway.

Naturally, police driving along in two patrol wagons halted and investigated.

"Where do you think you're going?" asked Patrolmen John Doyle and Leo Stanko.

"I'm looking for my black horse," was the reply.

Stanko turned to Doyle and said: "This mysterious fellow's obviously just in from the West, and we'd better take him to the station for questioning."

At nearby Central Station, the captured one identified himself only as Zorro, a television character whose sombrero and mask are among his traditions. The cops didn't believe him—they knew he was only 4.

"My daddy promised me a black horse and I went out to look for him," the boy said as police sought to learn his identity.

An hour later, Eugene Bezroukoff, a salesman, came to the station with his wife and three other sons, 7 to 1 years old, to reclaim his 4-year-old son Ronald.

Bezroukoff explained: He was visiting a friend in a Loop novelty shop when Ronald put on the Zorro hat and mask and ran out into the street. He ran after him but Ronald disappeared in the crowd.

As the family left the station, Doyle slipped Ronald a quarter and told him: "Here, sonny, you can start saving for that horse."

"I'll get him yet!" cried Ronald, galloping into the street.

Board Authorizes Fund Distribution

The Pickaway County Board of Education last night passed a resolution making an equitable distribution of funds and indebtedness of the Washington and Wayne Twp. local school districts.

The resolution will be sent to the Circleville Board of Education for approval and acceptance. The resolution was passed at the county board's regular monthly meeting held in the county superintendent's office at the courthouse.

Votes Bought! Party Heads Deplore Practice in County

By J. I. SMITH
Herald Staff Writer

Tuesday I saw votes bought in Pickaway County.

It took place just outside precinct 4-D, in the Walnut Street School basement.

I saw a voter walk to an automobile parked in an alley across the street from the Washington St. entrance to the school. He obtained a sample ballot from a man sitting in the car. It was explained to him.

His other hand went out and a bill was placed in his palm. He then walked to the voting place.

According to 4-D precinct workers, many persons entered the precinct office with the sample ballot in their hands, but were unable to select their candidate's ballot.

THEY WOULD ask what ballot "so-and-so" was on because that was the man they were supposed to vote for. Some even admitted they were dragged from their homes and herded to the precinct to register their paid vote.

This offense is not new to Pickaway County. There are many persons who have well paying jobs, making as much as $25 or more a day, who lay off work to buy a candidate's votes election day. It is not rare for a vote purchaser to be paid as much as $100 for this work.

Only the so-called undernourished and uneducated areas of Circleville are involved. In the 1st Ward, little or no vote buying is accomplished.

Both Democratic and Republican party chairmen in Pickaway County deplore the practice.

They welcome publicity in hopes that future candidates of both parties will band together to stop vote buying. They feel that few, if any, election results are changed by vote buying.

Party officials say that they don't mind that money is being spent on elections. . .it's the spoiling of America's greatest right and duty that makes the practice so deplorable. In addition, it ruins the election for those honest and dutiful citizens who go to the polls to vote, feeling it's a privilege, they say.

Bids Received By St. Paul's Of Ashville

Bids are being recieved by St. Paul Lutheran Church, near Ashville, for new construction to be added to the present building. The church is engaged in an extensive remodeling and improvement program.

To date, new slate roofs have been built on the ante rooms. Renovation of the old building exterior has been completed with sand-blasting and repoinning to highlight the fine work began nearly a century ago.

Included in the new construction will be an extended chancel, five new class and choir rooms, new heating, lighting and plumbing and restroom facilities as well as a cloister joining the new addition of the Church to the present Parish Hall.

Bids for the new construction are to be in the hands of the Building Committee at 2 p.m. May 20 when they are to be opened. The Building Committee is made up of Paul W. Teegardin, chairman, John Dowler, secretary, and Lester Fridley along with the Pastor, H. A. Tegtmeir.

PLANS have been drawn by Charles Marr of Marr, Knapp and Crawfis, New Philadelphia.

Repair of the old building is under the hands of Jesse Baum, Ira Hoover and King Cremeans.

A grounds committee of Ralph McCain, Neal Brown and Karl Kreiger are working on a new parking lot and driveway made possible by a gift of nearly three-fourths of an acre by the H. M. Crites family. Part of this was required for the Church extension.

Members of St. Paul and interested friends have been responsive to the call for funds to make this improvement and restoration of St. Paul Church.

Stork Stalling Frog Jump Star

ANGELS CAMP, Calif. (AP) — They stared intently at the frog. The frog, its bug-eyed lids half lowered, looked sleepy and unconcerned.

"No question about it," said Dr. Dante L. Alvasio Wednesday, "That frog is pregnant."

This was anything but good news to Bror W. Lander, former Swedish army corporal. He brought the frog, named Rolli, all the way from Stockholm to this onetime gold rush mining camp 110 miles east of San Francisco. Rolli is Sweden's entry in the intrnational frog jump here May 15-18.

"What can we do?" Lander asked anxiously.

"Well, in this delicate condition there isn't much we can do," said Dr. Alvasio, medical officer of the Calaveras County Fair. "We could induce ovulation with an injection from the pituitary gland of another frog."

Ovulation means laying eggs. A frog can lay about 5,000.

"But would it be in time?"

"It would take about a week. As it is, we can't with certainty predict just when this frog will ovulate — maybe before the jump, maybe after."

So Lander went to Turlock, Calif., in the San Joaquin Valley to seek a possible substitute for Rolli. Qualifying jumps in the 32nd Jumping Frog Jubilee begin a week from today and Rolli may be happily laying her eggs then.

Meanwhile, Dr. Alvasio prescribed mild exercise and a diet of hamburger, cooked brown, for the expectant Rolli.

Overloading Brings Fine

Orville Bear, 50, of Elm Grove, probably will think twice next time he tries to economize in his truck hauling business. He received a $131.40 fine today in Circleville Municipal Court for overloading.

Bear was charged with being 5,320 pounds overloaded. He was traveling with a load of lumber on Route 104. Judge Sterling Lamb fined Bear $25 and costs for overloading his straight bed truck and ordered him to pay $2 per hundred pounds for the overloaded weight. Bear had more than 24,000 pounds on his truck.

Others appearing in Municipal Court were Julia May Jones, 30, Columbus, who received a fine of $10 and costs for speeding 70 miles per hour.

Florence B. Slate, 43, Detroit, received a fine of $25 and costs for traveling 75 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone.

William J. Smith, 41, Columbus was fined $10 and costs for driving 70 miles per hour. The arrests were made by the State Highway Patrol.

Charles Keaton, 426 E. Union St., paid $10 and costs for failure to file application for the registration of his dog. Arrest was made on an affidavit filed by Pickaway County Dog Warden Ralph Wallace.

Berger Trial Begins Here

The trial involving Washington C. H. Union Stockyards versus Arthur Berger, Commercial Point, began this morning in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court with Judge William Ammer presiding.

Union Stockyards is suing Berger for a "bouncing check" in the amount of $9,158.74. Berger gave the Stockyards this check on Aug. 14, 1957. It was returned several days later for insufficient funds.

Berger admits writing the check, but denies all other charges. The Union Stockyards is represented by Robert Wright, New Holland, and Berger by Harry Margulis, Ashville.

Berger has four other suits pending against him that have been filed with the county clerk of courts. They are the Scioto Bank, suing for $1,155.68; Washington C. H. Union Stockyards for $2,925.58; and two cases by Herbert Wunder for $15,475.76 and $15,767.60.

Remember Mother's Day

More millions of sons and daughters than anyone could count will observe Mother's Day Sunday. For living mothers there will be visits and greetings and gifts. For the dead there will be some special act of remembrance. And these proofs of affection and appreciation will be given despite those who hold that the day is the product of nothing more than sentimentality.

They will be forthcoming because these sons and daughters feel that those who make this charge are wrong. And because they are convinced that it is good to make their mothers happy on this day set apart for them.

Surely the tie between mother and child is one of the strongest of the bonds that hold human beings together. These who cannot recall the warm love that no act of theirs could destroy, the patience, the self-sacrifice, the faith of a good mother, have been deprived of one of the greatest blessings anyone can be granted without earning it. And the glory of mother love is that it need not be earned.

To understand this is not to yield to sentimentality but to see a simple and profound truth in its true proportions. To acknowledge the debt owed to mother by some token of regard is to offer a gift that blesses the giver. That is why Mother's Day has become a permanent institution.

Hell-Raisers Are Revisited

By Hal Boyle

By CARROLL ARIMOND
(For Hal Boyle)

CHICAGO (AP)—The high school class of 1927 reassembled in Milwaukee the other night to count gray hairs, compare waistlines and exchange lies such as, "You haven't changed a bit."

Reunions are good ideas for less obvious reasons. They help keep today's headlines in perspective.

Teen-agers of 1927, as today, bedeviled and bewildered their elders who cluck-clucked at their behavior and forecast they'd never amount to much. They weren't called fancy names like juvenile delinquents or miscreants. They were just hell raisers.

We all raised our share of hell in varying degrees. The biggest shareholder of the class of 1927 was Ben who practiced his devilment right into graduation night.

Ben planted an alarm clock inside the grand piano in the school auditorium. No wartime submarine commander ever set a torpedo time fuse more accurately. Just as our distinguished speaker was sending us out into the cruel world on a string of platitudes, the clock sang out with its best dollar chime.

Later, when Ben served as a missionary on an Indian reservation in South Dakota, some of us observed that the Custer massacre finally was being avenged.

And what is Ben doing now: Benjamin V. Delahunt is making a nice serene living selling Bibles.

Our reunion speaker was Red, a name that hangs on although gray has replaced most of the auburn of his thatch.

And what is Red doing now: the Very Rev. Edward J. O'Donnell, S.J., is the president of Marquette University, the largest Roman Catholic university in the United States, if not the world.

Frank, with whom I once played a clumsy bass to his deft treble in a piano recital duet, spent his teens driving a truck.

What is Frank doing now? Frank D. Kelly is the corporate secretary of the Milwaukee Journal Co., whose papers he used to truck to news stands and carrier stations back in the '20s.

By simple projection Al should be doing time somewhere for forgery. At the reunion he whipped out a pen and wrote on the tablecloth the signature of the school principal. It looked as perfect as it did on the phony excuse slips we'd set up to escape "jug", a short synonym for disciplinary detention.

What's Al doing now: Alfred F. Braun is a sales manager for the Wisconsin Telephone Co., specializing in large installations.

By the time John took his degree in business administration it was 1931 and there was little business to administrate. In good times and bad, people get sick, John observed. So he enrolled in medical school.

What's John doing now? Dr. John S. Hirschboeck has coupled his business and scientific training and is dean of the medical school in Red's university.

And what am I doing? I'm yawning over today's paper with those black headlines over stories about our awful teen-agers, and writing:

"Don't count these kids out yet. Give 'em at least until 1989."

Knowland Is Campaigning

By George Sokolsky

Undoubtedly the most spectacular campaign this year will be the nomination and election of Senator William F. Knowland as Governor of California. Senator Knowland is the leader of the Republican Party in the United States Senate. He could have been renominated and re-elected to the Senate. He deliberately decline the sure thing and chose to risk himself for the Governorship of his state.

Against him are already gathering mighty forces, particularly the professional labor barons who earn their livings out of the work of other men. They object to Knowland because he has supported the American Right-to-Work doctrine which is as fundamental as free speech, namely, that no man and no group of men may enter into a conspiracy to prevent other human beings from earning a living. The Right-to-Work doctrine is basic in American life, going back to the earliest Colonial Days, before alien influences subordinated American thinking to one form or another of Marxian enslavement of the individual to the prevailing forces in society.

It has been suggested that Senator Knowland would have been a smarter politician had he not advocated the Right-to-Work doctrine until after he had been elected Governor. Then the labor barons might not have poured millions of dollars into California to effectuate his defeat. He treats such politician's proposals with contempt, as Senator Robert A. Taft did. A man must be honest with himself and if the price of being elected is to be a liar, Knowland rejects the whole thing.

His opposition has already developed a normal A.D.A. campaign which is to produce no arguments against Knowland's character or fitness, but to repeat endlessly the unprovable statement that he cannot be elected. This, no one can know until after an election actually has taken place, for the will of the people is not expressed in polls or in estimates but in the voting booth where secrecy and truth prevail.

Bill Knowland is obstinate in another regard. He is still a United States Senator and the Republican leader of the Senate and he takes his responsibilities seriously. Therefore, he refuses to neglect his duties in the Senate while he is running for office in California.

He flies to California for weekend campaigning but back to Washington as long as Congress is in session. This is an old-fashioned sense of responsibility, but it is very refreshing in an era when the word, duty, seems to have lost all meaning.

However, his charming wife, Helen, is on the circuit, campaigning for her husband which is always a graceful thing to do. I am told that Helen Knowland is a brilliant speaker and that Senator Knowland's daughters also appear at meetings. Thus, a family has been mobilized for civic duty and responsibility.

The Republican Party needs the kind of leadership that Senator Knowland has given it. It is responsible leadership which some men call conservative, but which, in fact, is a revolt against opportunism, against the betrayal of the American tradition of personal freedom and freedom of opportunity by those who advocate statism in any guise. Senator Knowland was quite young when Senator Robert A. Taft selected Knowland as his successor to the leadership. As the years passed, it was obvious that Taft's insight into the man's character was indeed precise.

One of the greatest issues to face the American people during the next decade will be the division of powers and authorities between the Federal Government in Washington and the 48 states. The encroachment of the Federal Government upon the states since 1933 has been beyond belief. The current Supreme Court, presided over by Chief Justice Earl Warren, seems bent upon destroying the authority of the states altogether. Utilizing its taxing power, the Federal Government takes so much of the earned income of the people out of each state as to leave the states without adequate revenue to perform their proper local functions.

Under our Constitution and our system of government, this course can only lead to a chaos approaching anarchy. It is therefore necessary for each state to select a strong Governor, a man of uncompromising character, who will protect the dignity of his state and the rights of his people.

Those who know him well and who have followed his record in the Senate believe that Senator Knowland is such a man.

Teen-Age Rocketeer Casualties on Climb

BOSTON (AP)— Teen-age rocketeers are injuring themselves at an alarming rate, the National Fire Protection Assn. reported in a survey made public today.

The non-profit fire-safety organization, in a report on 84 children and two adults wounded in a six-weeks period from March 1 to April 15, estimated that count takes in not more than half the actual number of rocketry casualties in that period. Four persons have been killed.

The plot concerns theater folk and production of a musical.

Downing was first signed to be stage manager of the real life production, and then cast to act the role of a stage manager in the show.

A special union waiver was required for him to take the dual chore.

BOSTON (AP)— Teen-age rocketeers are injuring themselves at an alarming rate, the National Fire Protection Assn. reported in a survey made public today.

The non-profit fire-safety organization, in a report on 84 children and two adults wounded in a six-weeks period from March 1 to April 15, estimated that count takes in not more than half the actual number of rocketry casualties in that period. Four persons have been killed.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I have been married happily for a great many years—38, in fact. My husband and I both are young in our ways and enjoy everything we do together.

Charles is 65, but could pass for 55 or younger. He is a good husband in every way, and also a very attractive man. He dresses well and makes a fine appearance. We have a lot of sociability and belong to a desirable club.

My problem is this (and perhaps I should be proud instead of resentful): Women make up to my husband everywhere we go. They try to attract his attention — even sales girls and waitresses.

One woman (married) sitting near us at a dance the other night gave Charles a big greeting, ignored me, and then leaned over and patted his arm during the evening. Finally she turned to him and asked him to dance, and he refused. She took his hands and tried to pull him up on the dance floor, and still he refused.

He cursed her afterward and said she had spoiled our evening, but I really don't know how to treat these people when I meet them again. At first I get angry; but then later I think, "How foolish." It embarrasses me and I can't cope. Charles tells me to pay no attention to them; to laugh it off.

E.P.

DEAR E.P.: Possibly yours is a problem of vanity. You are very proud of being married to an attractive man, and maybe you over-emphasize the point, habitually, with your husband. Thus, unconsciously, he may be always striving to live up to the wifely billing—subtly bidding for the attention of other women, in the undertones and overtones of his actions.

Inasmuch as he is a faithful spouse, your so-called difficulties with flirtatious women must be largely of your own making.

Your wifely attitude in social situations may be too keenly observant, too proprietary—as if you assumed you were always confronting risks and dangers. Thus you may cause your husband to be self-conscious in the presence of ladies—half smugly, half nervously so; always concerned about your anxious inferences and reactions.

The jealous tension implicit in your manner may spark in women an unconscious reflex of unfriendliness, geared to your defensive air. As a result, they may tend to ignore you, while playing up to Charles, in an invidious way that seems to say—"We don't like your wife any more than she likes us; but you are nice."

To get a grip on yourself, read "The Christian's Secret of a Happy Life" (Revell) by Hannah Whittall Smith; and Alexander Magoun's "Love and Marriage" (Harpers).

Bandit Faints As Bank Aide Counts Cash

OROVILLE, Calif. (AP)—The man with the big blue eyes was robbing the bank.

Counting out the money was the teller with the pretty face, Mrs. Pat Thelander, 23.

One thousand . . . two thousand . . .nearly three thousand dollars she piled on the counter.

Suddenly the robber slid from sight. Mrs. Thelander stood on tiptoe and peered over the counter. There he was, slumped on the floor. His big blue eyes were closed.

He had fainted — from hunger. It happened in a branch of the Bank of America, the biggest bank in America.

In his pocket was no gun to back up his threatening robbery note. There was only 2 cents.

He said he was Timothy J. Mahoney, 49, an ex-Army sergeant. He had lost his job in a Feather River Canyon resort.

Police hauled him to the local Bastille. They fed him and he felt better.

They left him there for the FBI.

High Court Hears Arguments In Ross County Library Fuss

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court yesterday heard oral arguments in a dispute between the city of Chillicothe and the Ross County district library regarding the library's budget appropriation.

The high court took under advisement the city's appeal from a ruling by the state Board of Tax Appeals granting the library an $8,527 increase in its $35,000 appropriation. The city is asking the high court to set aside the tax board's finding and reaffirm the original $35,000 budget set by the Board of County Commissioners.

Attorney William Stanhope, representing the city, told the court that the library board of trustees had originally asked for a $49,327 budget. The $14,327 increase was to go toward salary increases and to purchase a bookmobile facility to service rural Ross County.

The Board of Tax Appeals found that the bookmobile was not a justifiable expense but granted the $8,527 for salary increases.

Stanhope argued that the appeals board had exceeded its authority in granting an allocation of tax funds for a specific purpose.

Stanhope also told the high court that the library district was using $9,000 of its budget — more than enough for salary increases — to help school libraries in Ross County in violation of tax statutes.

George Coen, president of the Ohio Library Trustees Assn., told the high court that it was a common practice for public libraries throughout the state to aid school libraries and that if the high court ruled this a violation it would add to the expenses borne by school districts.

Attorney David Phillips added that the funds awarded the library by the appeals board would not all go to salary increases but part would go into the library's general revenue fund.

Nation's Inventories Reported Declining

WASHINGTON (AP) —Inventories of manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers declined in March, the Commerce Department says.

The report said total inventories, seasonally adjusted, dropped to $88½ billion in March from $89.3 billion a month earlier.

Retail sales held steady at $16.1 billion. Manufacturers' sales dropped $400 million to about $25¼ billion while those of wholesalers fell $200 million to about $10 billion.

YOUR MONEY'S WORTH

Now Is a Good Time to Buy

AS SEEN BY FAMOUS FINANCE WRITER . . . . . .

IS THIS A GOOD time for YOU to buy?

From the President down to the small retailer on the corner, the cry is going out to the American consumer to "Buy Now!"

To curb the business downturn, the President is repeatedly urging us to "Buy," for, "once America just buys the things it wants, our people, our manufacturers, will be busy making those things."

IN THE PRIVACY of your own home, you must be asking, "Is it to my own advantage to buy now? Or will I gain substantially by waiting?"

Honestly I believe the answers are:

It is to your own advantage to buy in coming months. You will not gain substantialy by waiting. And here are some fundamental reasons why.

1. The slump has been concentrated in durable goods industries, particularly autos, appliances — and the decline in these industries now has reached the point where you can get impressive bargains.

The auto promotions are not phonies; spectacular price slashes are being offered. The same goes for the appliance clearances and retail store promotions; I've checked many of them and they're on the level.

2. Unless we're heading for a depression — and we are not heading for one — widespread, severe price cuts are not in the cards.

We have "built into" our economic structure immense wage-cost rigidities in the last few decades, and these rigidities will prevent big price reductions. Raw material prices already have fallen sharply, and they're not going to fall much more.

Transportation and distribution costs aren't dropping. It's madness to want a repetition of the price cuts of the '30s, for that sort of catastrophe would doom our economy.

Moderate price reductions in some areas is the most that can be expected.

3. Over the long-term, the trend of prices is upward — and the prices you pay for land, a house, other big items today may seem cheap in comparison to prices asked five or so years from today.

THE BIAS in our country throughout the twentieth century has been toward higher prices. There is no sign that the bias is shifting.

False optimism has no place in this column. We can't talk ourselves into boom anymore than we can talk ourselves into a bust.

But we can use our heads, decide whether the urging to buy now is sound for us, as individuals, as well as healthy for our country.

A down-to-earth analysis of the basic forces suggests the advice is sound for us. And what is sound for us is, of course, healthy for our country.

Remember Mother's Day

More millions of sons and daughters than anyone could count will observe Mother's Day Sunday. For living mothers there will be visits and greetings and gifts. For the dead there will be some special act of remembrance. And these proofs of affection and appreciation will be given despite those who hold that the day is the product of nothing more than sentimentality.

They will be forthcoming because these sons and daughters feel that those who make this charge are wrong. And because they are convinced that it is good to make their mothers happy on this day set apart for them.

Surely the tie between mother and child is one of the strongest of the bonds that hold human beings together. These who cannot recall the warm love that no act of theirs could destroy, the patience, the self-sacrifice, the faith of a good mother, have been deprived of one of the greatest blessings anyone can be granted without earning it. And the glory of mother love is that it need not be earned.

To understand this is not to yield to sentimentality but to see a simple and profound truth in its true proportions. To acknowledge the debt owed to mother by some token of regard is to offer a gift that blesses the giver. That is why Mother's Day has become a permanent institution.

Hell-Raisers Are Revisited

By Hal Boyle

By CARROLL ARIMOND
(For Hal Boyle)

CHICAGO (AP)—The high school class of 1927 reassembled in Milwaukee the other night to count gray hairs, compare waistlines and exchange lies such as, "You haven't changed a bit."

Reunions are good ideas for less obvious reasons. They help keep today's headlines in perspective.

Teen-agers of 1927, as today, bedeviled and bewildered their elders who cluck-clucked at their behavior and forecast they'd never amount to much. They weren't called fancy names like juvenile delinquents or miscreants. They were just hell raisers.

We all raised our share of hell in varying degrees. The biggest shareholder of the class of 1927 was Ben who practiced his devilment right into graduation night.

Ben planted an alarm clock inside the grand piano in the school auditorium. No wartime submarine commander ever set a torpedo time fuse more accurately. Just as our distinguished speaker was sending us out into the cruel world on a string of platitudes, the clock sang out with its best dollar chime.

Later, when Ben served as a missionary on an Indian reservation in South Dakota, some of us observed that the Custer massacre finally was being avenged.

And what is Ben doing now: Benjamin V. Delahunt is making a nice serene living selling Bibles.

Our reunion speaker was Red, a name that hangs on although gray has replaced most of the auburn of his thatch.

And what is Red doing now: the Very Rev. Edward J. O'Donnell, S.J., is the president of Marquette University, the largest Roman Catholic university in the United States, if not the world.

Frank, with whom I once played a clumsy bass to his deft treble in a piano recital duet, spent his teens driving a truck.

What is Frank doing now? Frank D. Kelly is the corporate secretary of the Milwaukee Journal Co., whose papers he used to truck to news stands and carrier stations back in the '20s.

By simple projection Al should be doing time somewhere for forgery. At the reunion he whipped out a pen and wrote on the tablecloth the signature of the school principal. It looked as perfect as it did on the phony excuse slips we'd set up to escape "jug", a short synonym for disciplinary detention.

What's Al doing now: Alfred F. Braun is a sales manager for the Wisconsin Telephone Co., specializing in large installations.

By the time John took his degree in business administration it was 1931 and there was little business to administrate. In good times and bad, people get sick, John observed. So he enrolled in medical school.

What's John doing now? Dr. John S. Hirschboeck has coupled his business and scientific training and is dean of the medical school in Red's university.

And what am I doing? I'm yawning over today's paper with those black headlines over stories about our awful teen-agers, and writing:

"Don't count these kids out yet. Give 'em at least until 1989."

Knowland Is Campaigning

By George Sokolsky

Undoubtedly the most spectacular campaign this year will be the nomination and election of Senator William F. Knowland as Governor of California. Senator Knowland is the leader of the Republican Party in the United States Senate. He could have been renominated and re-elected to the Senate. He deliberately decline the sure thing and chose to risk himself for the Governorship of his state.

Against him are already gathering mighty forces, particularly the professional labor barons who earn their livings out of the work of other men. They object to Knowland because he has supported the American Right-to-Work doctrine which is as fundamental as free speech, namely, that no man and no group of men may enter into a conspiracy to prevent other human beings from earning a living. The Right-to-Work doctrine is basic in American life, going back to the earliest Colonial Days, before alien influences subordinated American thinking to one form or another of Marxian enslavement of the individual to the prevailing forces in society.

It has been suggested that Senator Knowland would have been a smarter politician had he not advocated the Right-to-Work doctrine until after he had been elected Governor. Then the labor barons might not have poured millions of dollars into California to effectuate his defeat. He treats such politician's proposals with contempt, as Senator Robert A. Taft did. A man must be honest with himself and if the price of being elected is to be a liar, Knowland rejects the whole thing.

His opposition has already developed a normal A.D.A. campaign which is to produce no arguments against Knowland's character or fitness, but to repeat endlessly the unprovable statement that he cannot be elected. This, no one can know until after an election actually has taken place, for the will of the people is not expressed in polls or in estimates but in the voting booth where secrecy and truth prevail.

Bill Knowland is obstinate in another regard. He is still a United States Senator and the Republican leader of the Senate and he takes his responsibilities seriously. Therefore, he refuses to neglect his duties in the Senate while he is running for office in California.

He flies to California for weekend campaigning but back to Washington as long as Congress is in session. This is an old-fashioned sense of responsibility, but it is very refreshing in an era when the word, duty, seems to have lost all meaning.

However, his charming wife, Helen, is on the circuit, campaigning for her husband which is always a graceful thing to do. I am told that Helen Knowland is a brilliant speaker and that Senator Knowland's daughters also appear at meetings. Thus, a family has been mobilized for civic duty and responsibility.

The Republican Party needs the kind of leadership that Senator Knowland has given it. It is responsible leadership which some men call conservative, but which, in fact, is a revolt against opportunism, against the betrayal of the American tradition of personal freedom and freedom of opportunity by those who advocate statism in any guise. Senator Knowland was quite young when Senator Robert A. Taft selected Knowland as his successor to the leadership. As the years passed, it was obvious that Taft's insight into the man's character was indeed precise.

One of the greatest issues to face the American people during the next decade will be the division of powers and authorities between the Federal Government in Washington and the 48 states. The encroachment of the Federal Government upon the states since 1933 has been beyond belief. The current Supreme Court, presided over by Chief Justice Earl Warren, seems bent upon destroying the authority of the states altogether. Utilizing its taxing power, the Federal Government takes so much of the earned income of the people out of each state as to leave the states without adequate revenue to perform their proper local functions.

Under our Constitution and our system of government, this course can only lead to a chaos approaching anarchy. It is therefore necessary for each state to select a strong Governor, a man of uncompromising character, who will protect the dignity of his state and the rights of his people.

Those who know him well and who have followed his record in the Senate believe that Senator Knowland is such a man.

Teen-Age Rocketeer Casualties on Climb

BOSTON (AP)— Teen-age rocketeers are injuring themselves at an alarming rate, the National Fire Protection Assn. reported in a survey made public today.

The non-profit fire-safety organization, in a report on 84 children and two adults wounded in a six-weeks period from March 1 to April 15, estimated that count takes in not more than half the actual number of rocketry casualties in that period. Four persons have been killed.

Jack of All Trades

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert Downing, a man with two jobs, won't just be acting in Broadway's planned comedy — with music, "Say, Darling."

The plot concerns theater folk and production of a musical.

Downing was first signed to be stage manager of the real life production, and then cast to act the role of a stage manager in the show.

A special union waiver was required for him to take the dual chore.

"The class voted him most likely to succeed!"

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

AN ENGLISH NEWSPAPER has been investigating a very important matter: the number of times a cuckoo can call without stopping. And since a great many English people take their bird-watching very seriously, letters have been pouring in on the subject.

One reader in Tilehurst reported he had heard a cuckoo call distinctly 121 times in succession. "A mere nothing," pooh-poohed another reader from Leamington Spa. Her cuckoo had sounded off 205 times without a pause that refreshes!

A third reader counted over 300 successive cuckoo calls, but honorably disqualified himself when he discovered he was standing outside a clock factory.

Alcohol Sometimes Helpful

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

In many European countries, wine and-or brandy are considered a part of the main meal of the day, and it seems as though this practice is being widely adopted in this country.

As a matter of fact, reliable surveys indicate that about 65 per cent of our population over the age of 17 regularly drink alcoholic beverages of one sort or another.

And an estimated 80 per cent of our physicians take a drink occasionally, many regarding moderate drinking as beneficial in certain conditions.

A cocktail, a drink of whisky, a wine such as sherry or a spirit like cognac often helps to stimulate the appetite. This is especially true for many elderly persons who are sometimes troubled with a poor appetite.

Very often these beverages will eliminate that feeling of fullness that prematurely reduces the appetite, thereby cutting down in the quantity of food consumed.

A glass of an alcohol beverage before or with a meal may aid the digestive process. When taken in moderation, alcohol mildly stimulates digestion by helping the gastric glands to secrete free hydrochloric acid. Also, small doses of alcohol may stimulate secretion of pancreatic juice.

However, the calorie content of beverage alcohol might be a problem for those of you who must watch your weight.

Dr. Harold H. Lefft of New York reported recently in an article appearing in the International Record of Medicine that the caloric content of spirits is roughly equivalent to the proof. Therefore, a spirit of 86 proof can be expected to contain approximately 86 calories per ounce.

For all this evidence, it appears that a drink before or with a meal may be definite aid to appetite and digestion when judicially taken.

Answer: Unless there is accompanying heart failure, I see no reason why air travel should prove harmful or bring on an attack of asthma.

Ohio Idle Pay Claims Decline

COLUMBUS (AP)—The number of Ohioans drawing unemployment compensation dropped slightly last week for the second time in the current recession.

The total stood at 223,884, down 1,549 from the record high of 225,433 for the week ended April 26.

The number of new claims last week also showed a decline—25,279 as compared with 27,468 for the week ended April 26.

The decline in the jobless benefit total was spread fairly evenly over the state with the harder-hit industrial areas in the north and east registering slight drops.

Remember Mother's Day

More millions of sons and daughters than anyone could count will observe Mother's Day Sunday. For living mothers there will be visits and greetings and gifts. For the dead there will be some special act of remembrance. And these proofs of affection and appreciation will be given despite those who hold that the day is the product of nothing more than sentimentality.

They will be forthcoming because these sons and daughters feel that those who make this charge are wrong. And because they are convinced that it is good to make their mothers happy on this day set apart for them.

Surely the tie between mother and child is one of the strongest of the bonds that hold human beings together. These who cannot recall the warm love that no act of theirs could destroy, the patience, the self-sacrifice, the faith of a good mother, have been deprived of one of the greatest blessings anyone can be granted without earning it. And the glory of mother love is that it need not be earned.

To understand this is not to yield to sentimentality but to see a simple and profound truth in its true proportions. To acknowledge the debt owed to mother by some token of regard is to offer a gift that blesses the giver. That is why Mother's Day has become a permanent institution.

Hell-Raisers Are Revisited

By Hal Boyle

By CARROLL ARIMOND
(For Hal Boyle)

CHICAGO (AP)—The high school class of 1927 reassembled in Milwaukee the other night to count gray hairs, compare waistlines and exchange lies such as, "You haven't changed a bit."

Reunions are good ideas for less obvious reasons. They help keep today's headlines in perspective.

Teen-agers of 1927, as today, bedeviled and bewildered their elders who cluck-clucked at their behavior and forecast they'd never amount to much. They weren't called fancy names like juvenile delinquents or miscreants. They were just hell raisers.

We all raised our share of hell in varying degrees. The biggest shareholder of the class of 1927 was Ben who practiced his devilment right into graduation night.

Ben planted an alarm clock inside the grand piano in the school auditorium. No wartime submarine commander ever set a torpedo time fuse more accurately. Just as our distinguished speaker was sending us out into the cruel world on a string of platitudes, the clock sang out with its best dollar chime.

Later, when Ben served as a missionary on an Indian reservation in South Dakota, some of us observed that the Custer massacre finally was being avenged.

And what is Ben doing now: Benjamin V. Delahunt is making a nice serene living selling Bibles.

Our reunion speaker was Red, a name that hangs on although gray has replaced most of the auburn of his thatch.

And what is Red doing now: the Very Rev. Edward J. O'Donnell, S.J., is the president of Marquette University, the largest Roman Catholic university in the United States, if not the world.

Frank, with whom I once played a clumsy bass to his deft treble in a piano recital duet, spent his teens driving a truck.

What is Frank doing now? Frank D. Kelly is the corporate secretary of the Milwaukee Journal Co., whose papers he used to truck to news stands and carrier stations back in the '20s.

By simple projection Al should be doing time somewhere for forgery. At the reunion he whipped out a pen and wrote on the tablecloth the signature of the school principal. It looked as perfect as it did on the phony excuse slips we'd set up to escape "jug", a short synonym for disciplinary detention.

What's Al doing now: Alfred F. Braun is a sales manager for the Wisconsin Telephone Co., specializing in large installations.

By the time John took his degree in business administration it was 1931 and there was little business to administrate. In good times and bad, people get sick, John observed. So he enrolled in medical school.

What's John doing now? Dr. John S. Hirschboeck has coupled his business and scientific training and is dean of the medical school in Red's university.

And what am I doing? I'm yawning over today's paper with those black headlines over stories about our awful teen-agers, and writing:

"Don't count these kids out yet. Give 'em at least until 1989."

Knowland Is Campaigning

By George Sokolsky

Undoubtedly the most spectacular campaign this year will be the nomination and election of Senator William F. Knowland as Governor of California. Senator Knowland is the leader of the Republican Party in the United States Senate. He could have been renominated and re-elected to the Senate. He deliberately decline the sure thing and chose to risk himself for the Governorship of his state.

Against him are already gathering mighty forces, particularly the professional labor barons who earn their livings out of the work of other men. They object to Knowland because he has supported the American Right-to-Work doctrine which is as fundamental as free speech, namely, that no man and no group of men may enter into a conspiracy to prevent other human beings from earning a living. The Right-to-Work doctrine is basic in American life, going back to the earliest Colonial Days, before alien influences subordinated American thinking to one form or another of Marxian enslavement of the individual to the prevailing forces in society.

It has been suggested that Senator Knowland would have been a smarter politician had he not advocated the Right-to-Work doctrine until after he had been elected Governor. Then the labor barons might not have poured millions of dollars into California to effectuate his defeat. He treats such politician's proposals with contempt, as Senator Robert A. Taft did. A man must be honest with himself and if the price of being elected is to be a liar, Knowland rejects the whole thing.

His opposition has already developed a normal A.D.A. campaign which is to produce no arguments against Knowland's character or fitness, but to repeat endlessly the unprovable statement that he cannot be elected. This, no one can know until after an election actually has taken place, for the will of the people is not expressed in polls or in estimates but in the voting booth where secrecy and truth prevail.

Bill Knowland is obstinate in another regard. He is still a United States Senator and the Republican leader of the Senate and he takes his responsibilities seriously. Therefore, he refuses to neglect his duties in the Senate while he is running for office in California.

He flies to California for weekend campaigning but back to Washington as long as Congress is in session. This is an old-fashioned sense of responsibility, but it is very refreshing in an era when the word, duty, seems to have lost all meaning.

However, his charming wife, Helen, is on the circuit, campaigning for her husband which is always a graceful thing to do. I am told that Helen Knowland is a brilliant speaker and that Senator Knowland's daughters also appear at meetings. Thus, a family has been mobilized for civic duty and responsibility.

The Republican Party needs the kind of leadership that Senator Knowland has given it. It is responsible leadership which some men call conservative, but which, in fact, is a revolt against opportunism, against the betrayal of the American tradition of personal freedom and freedom of opportunity by those who advocate statism in any guise. Senator Knowland was quite young when Senator Robert A. Taft selected Knowland as his successor to the leadership. As the years passed, it was obvious that Taft's insight into the man's character was indeed precise.

One of the greatest issues to face the American people during the next decade will be the division of powers and authorities between the Federal Government in Washington and the 48 states. The encroachment of the Federal Government upon the states since 1933 has been beyond belief. The current Supreme Court, presided over by Chief Justice Earl Warren, seems bent upon destroying the authority of the states altogether. Utilizing its taxing power, the Federal Government takes so much of the earned income of the people out of each state as to leave the states without adequate revenue to perform their proper local functions.

Under our Constitution and our system of government, this course can only lead to a chaos approaching anarchy. It is therefore necessary for each state to select a strong Governor, a man of uncompromising character, who will protect the dignity of his state and the rights of his people.

Those who know him well and who have followed his record in the Senate believe that Senator Knowland is such a man.

Teen-Age Rocketeer Casualties on Climb

BOSTON (AP)— Teen-age rocketeers are injuring themselves at an alarming rate, the National Fire Protection Assn. reported in a survey made public today.

The non-profit fire-safety organization, in a report on 84 children and two adults wounded in a six-weeks period from March 1 to April 15, estimated that count takes in not more than half the actual number of rocketry casualties in that period. Four persons have been killed.

Jack of All Trades

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert Downing, a man with two jobs, won't just be acting in Broadway's planned comedy — with music, "Say, Darling."

The plot concerns theater folk and production of a musical.

Downing was first signed to be stage manager of the real life production, and then cast to act the role of a stage manager in the show.

A special union waiver was required for him to take the dual chore.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I have been married happily for a great many years—38, in fact. My husband and I both are young in our ways and enjoy everything we do together.

Charles is 65, but could pass for 55 or younger. He is a good husband in every way, and also a very attractive man. He dresses well and makes a fine appearance. We have a lot of sociability and belong to a desirable club.

My problem is this (and perhaps I should be proud instead of resentful): Women make up to my husband everywhere we go. They try to attract his attention — even sales girls and waitresses.

One woman (married) sitting near us at a dance the other night gave Charles a big greeting, ignored me, and then leaned over and patted his arm during the evening. Finally she turned to him and asked him to dance, and he refused. She took his hands and tried to pull him up on the dance floor, and still he refused.

He cursed her afterward and said she had spoiled our evening, but I really don't know how to treat these people when I meet them again. At first I get angry; but then later I think, "How foolish." It embarrasses me and I can't cope. Charles tells me to pay no attention to them; to laugh it off.

E.P.

DEAR E.P.: Possibly yours is a problem of vanity. You are very proud of being married to an attractive man, and maybe you over-emphasize the point, habitually, with your husband. Thus, unconsciously, he may be always striving to live up to the wifely billing—subtly bidding for the attention of other women, in the undertones and overtones of his actions.

Inasmuch as he is a faithful spouse, your so-called difficulties with flirtatious women must be largely of your own making.

Your wifely attitude in social situations may be too keenly observant, too proprietary—as if you assumed you were always confronting risks and dangers. Thus you may cause your husband to be self-conscious in the presence of ladies—half smugly, half nervously so; always concerned about your anxious inferences and reactions.

The jealous tension implicit in your manner may spark in women an unconscious reflex of unfriendliness, geared to your defensive air. As a result, they may tend to ignore you, while playing up to Charles, in an invidious way that seems to say—"We don't like your wife any more than she likes us; but you are nice."

To get a grip on yourself, read "The Christian's Secret of a Happy Life" (Revell) by Hannah Whittall Smith; and Alexander Magoun's "Love and Marriage" (Harpers).

Bandit Faints As Bank Aide Counts Cash

OROVILLE, Calif. (AP)—The man with the big blue eyes was robbing the bank.

Counting out the money was the teller with the pretty face, Mrs. Pat Thelander, 23.

One thousand . . . two thousand . . .nearly three thousand dollars she piled on the counter.

Suddenly the robber slid from sight. Mrs. Thelander stood on tiptoe and peered over the counter. There he was, slumped on the floor. His big blue eyes were closed.

He had fainted — from hunger. It happened in a branch of the Bank of America, the biggest bank in America.

In his pocket was no gun to back up his threatening robbery note. There was only 2 cents.

He said he was Timothy J. Mahoney, 49, an ex-Army sergeant. He had lost his job in a Feather River Canyon resort.

Police hauled him to the local Bastille. They fed him and he felt better.

They left him there for the FBI.

High Court Hears Arguments In Ross County Library Fuss

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court yesterday heard oral arguments in a dispute between the city of Chillicothe and the Ross County district library regarding the library's budget appropriation.

The high court took under advisement the city's appeal from a ruling by the state Board of Tax Appeals granting the library an $8,527 increase in its $35,000 appropriation. The city is asking the high court to set aside the tax board's finding and reaffirm the original $35,000 budget set by the Board of County Commissioners.

Attorney William Stanhope, representing the city, told the court that the library board of trustees had originally asked for a $49,327 budget. The $14,327 increase was to go toward salary increases and to purchase a bookmobile facility to service rural Ross County.

The Board of Tax Appeals found that the bookmobile was not a justifiable expense but granted the $8,527 for salary increases.

Stanhope argued that the appeals board had exceeded its authority in granting an allocation of tax funds for a specific purpose.

Stanhope also told the high court that the library district was using $9,000 of its budget — more than enough for salary increases — to help school libraries in Ross County in violation of tax statutes.

George Coen, president of the Ohio Library Trustees Assn., told the high court that it was a common practice for public libraries throughout the state to aid school libraries and that if the high court ruled this a violation it would add to the expenses borne by school districts.

Attorney David Phillips added that the funds awarded the library by the appeals board would not all go to salary increases but part would go into the library's general revenue fund.

Nation's Inventories Reported Declining

WASHINGTON (AP) —Inventories of manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers declined in March, the Commerce Department says.

The report said total inventories, seasonally adjusted, dropped to $88½ billion in March from $89.3 billion a month earlier.

Retail sales held steady at $16.1 billion. Manufacturers' sales dropped $400 million to about $25¼ billion while those of wholesalers fell $200 million to about $10 billion.

YOUR MONEY'S WORTH

Now Is a Good Time to Buy

AS SEEN BY FAMOUS FINANCE WRITER . . . . . .

IS THIS A GOOD time for YOU to buy?

From the President down to the small retailer on the corner, the cry is going out to the American consumer to "Buy Now!"

To curb the business downturn, the President is repeatedly urging us to "Buy," for, "once America just buys the things it wants, our people, our manufacturers, will be busy making those things."

IN THE PRIVACY of your own home, you must be asking, "Is it to my own advantage to buy now? Or will I gain substantially by waiting?"

Honestly I believe the answers are:

It is to your own advantage to buy in coming months. You will not gain substantialy by waiting. And here are some fundamental reasons why.

1. The slump has been concentrated in durable goods industries, particularly autos, appliances — and the decline in these industries now has reached the point where you can get impressive bargains.

The auto promotions are not phonies; spectacular price slashes are being offered. The same goes for the appliance clearances and retail store promotions; I've checked many of them and they're on the level.

2. Unless we're heading for a depression — and we are not heading for one — widespread, severe price cuts are not in the cards.

We have "built into" our economic structure immense wage-cost rigidities in the last few decades, and these rigidities will prevent big price reductions. Raw material prices already have fallen sharply, and they're not going to fall much more.

Transportation and distribution costs aren't dropping. It's madness to want a repetition of the price cuts of the '30s, for that sort of catastrophe would doom our economy.

Moderate price reductions in some areas is the most that can be expected.

3. Over the long-term, the trend of prices is upward — and the prices you pay for land, a house, other big items today may seem cheap in comparison to prices asked five or so years from today.

THE BIAS in our country throughout the twentieth century has been toward higher prices. There is no sign that the bias is shifting.

False optimism has no place in this column. We can't talk ourselves into boom anymore than we can talk ourselves into a bust.

But we can use our heads, decide whether the urging to buy now is sound for us, as individuals, as well as healthy for our country.

A down-to-earth analysis of the basic forces suggests the advice is sound for us. And what is sound for us is, of course, healthy for our country.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I have been married happily for a great many years—38, in fact. My husband and I both are young in our ways and enjoy everything we do together.

Charles is 65, but could pass for 55 or younger. He is a good husband in every way, and also a very attractive man. He dresses well and makes a fine appearance. We have a lot of sociability and belong to a desirable club.

My problem is this (and perhaps I should be proud instead of resentful): Women make up to my husband everywhere we go. They try to attract his attention — even sales girls and waitresses.

One woman (married) sitting near us at a dance the other night gave Charles a big greeting, ignored me, and then leaned over and patted his arm during the evening. Finally she turned to him and asked him to dance, and he refused. She took his hands and tried to pull him up on the dance floor, and still he refused.

He cursed her afterward and said she had spoiled our evening, but I really don't know how to treat these people when I meet them again. At first I get angry; but then later I think, "How foolish." It embarrasses me and I can't cope. Charles tells me to pay no attention to them; to laugh it off.

E.P.

DEAR E.P.: Possibly yours is a problem of vanity. You are very proud of being married to an attractive man, and maybe you over-emphasize the point, habitually, with your husband. Thus, unconsciously, he may be always striving to live up to the wifely billing—subtly bidding for the attention of other women, in the undertones and overtones of his actions.

Inasmuch as he is a faithful spouse, your so-called difficulties with flirtatious women must be largely of your own making.

Your wifely attitude in social situations may be too keenly observant, too proprietary—as if you assumed you were always confronting risks and dangers. Thus you may cause your husband to be self-conscious in the presence of ladies—half smugly, half nervously so; always concerned about your anxious inferences and reactions.

The jealous tension implicit in your manner may spark in women an unconscious reflex of unfriendliness, geared to your defensive air. As a result, they may tend to ignore you, while playing up to Charles, in an invidious way that seems to say—"We don't like your wife any more than she likes us; but you are nice."

To get a grip on yourself, read "The Christian's Secret of a Happy Life" (Revell) by Hannah Whittall Smith; and Alexander Magoun's "Love and Marriage" (Harpers).

Bandit Faints As Bank Aide Counts Cash

OROVILLE, Calif. (AP)—The man with the big blue eyes was robbing the bank.

Counting out the money was the teller with the pretty face, Mrs. Pat Thelander, 23.

One thousand . . . two thousand . . .nearly three thousand dollars she piled on the counter.

Suddenly the robber slid from sight. Mrs. Thelander stood on tiptoe and peered over the counter. There he was, slumped on the floor. His big blue eyes were closed.

He had fainted — from hunger. It happened in a branch of the Bank of America, the biggest bank in America.

In his pocket was no gun to back up his threatening robbery note. There was only 2 cents.

He said he was Timothy J. Mahoney, 49, an ex-Army sergeant. He had lost his job in a Feather River Canyon resort.

Police hauled him to the local Bastille. They fed him and he felt better.

They left him there for the FBI.

High Court Hears Arguments In Ross County Library Fuss

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court yesterday heard oral arguments in a dispute between the city of Chillicothe and the Ross County district library regarding the library's budget appropriation.

The high court took under advisement the city's appeal from a ruling by the state Board of Tax Appeals granting the library an $8,527 increase in its $35,000 appropriation. The city is asking the high court to set aside the tax board's finding and reaffirm the original $35,000 budget set by the Board of County Commissioners.

Attorney William Stanhope, representing the city, told the court that the library board of trustees had originally asked for a $49,327 budget. The $14,327 increase was to go toward salary increases and to purchase a bookmobile facility to service rural Ross County.

The Board of Tax Appeals found that the bookmobile was not a justifiable expense but granted the $8,527 for salary increases.

Stanhope argued that the appeals board had exceeded its authority in granting an allocation of tax funds for a specific purpose.

Stanhope also told the high court that the library district was using $9,000 of its budget — more than enough for salary increases — to help school libraries in Ross County in violation of tax statutes.

George Coen, president of the Ohio Library Trustees Assn., told the high court that it was a common practice for public libraries throughout the state to aid school libraries and that if the high court ruled this a violation it would add to the expenses borne by school districts.

Attorney David Phillips added that the funds awarded the library by the appeals board would not all go to salary increases but part would go into the library's general revenue fund.

Nation's Inventories Reported Declining

WASHINGTON (AP) —Inventories of manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers declined in March, the Commerce Department says.

The report said total inventories, seasonally adjusted, dropped to $88½ billion in March from $89.3 billion a month earlier.

Retail sales held steady at $16.1 billion. Manufacturers' sales dropped $400 million to about $25¼ billion while those of wholesalers fell $200 million to about $10 billion.

YOU AUTO BUY

THIS WEEK— NOW! —NEXT WEEK!

YOUR MONEY'S WORTH

Now Is a Good Time to Buy

AS SEEN BY FAMOUS FINANCE WRITER . . . . . .

IS THIS A GOOD time for YOU to buy?

From the President down to the small retailer on the corner, the cry is going out to the American consumer to "Buy Now!"

To curb the business downturn, the President is repeatedly urging us to "Buy," for, "once America just buys the things it wants, our people, our manufacturers, will be busy making those things."

IN THE PRIVACY of your own home, you must be asking, "Is it to my own advantage to buy now? Or will I gain substantially by waiting?"

Honestly I believe the answers are:

It is to your own advantage to buy in coming months. You will not gain substantialy by waiting. And here are some fundamental reasons why.

1. The slump has been concentrated in durable goods industries, particularly autos, appliances — and the decline in these industries now has reached the point where you can get impressive bargains.

The auto promotions are not phonies; spectacular price slashes are being offered. The same goes for the appliance clearances and retail store promotions; I've checked many of them and they're on the level.

2. Unless we're heading for a depression — and we are not heading for one — widespread, severe price cuts are not in the cards.

We have "built into" our economic structure immense wage-cost rigidities in the last few decades, and these rigidities will prevent big price reductions. Raw material prices already have fallen sharply, and they're not going to fall much more.

Transportation and distribution costs aren't dropping. It's madness to want a repetition of the price cuts of the '30s, for that sort of catastrophe would doom our economy.

Moderate price reductions in some areas is the most that can be expected.

3. Over the long-term, the trend of prices is upward — and the prices you pay for land, a house, other big items today may seem cheap in comparison to prices asked five or so years from today.

Miss Betty Penn Speaker For Women's Banquet

Miss Betty Penn was the guest speaker for the mother-daughter or guest night banquet held last night by the Women's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church in the social rooms.

Approximately 100 members, mothers, and guests attended the affair. The men of the Men's Brotherhood of the church served the meal and took care of the kitchen kp.

Mrs. James Shank opened the meeting with a message of welcome to all present. A special feature was presented by Mrs. Larry Graham and her daughter, Kim. Kim, just 4 years old, presented two piano selections. Mrs. Graham presented the solo "M-O-T-H-E-R."

Mrs. Boyd Stout gave a memorial service for the five deceased members: Mrs. Rebecca Orr, Mrs. John Neff, Mrs. B. R. Bales, Mrs. V. T. Watson and Mrs. Ollie Smith.

Mrs. N. E. Reichelderfer gave the devotions. She used for her theme "That They My Have Life."

Miss Betty Penn of Columbus, was then presented as the guest speaker. Miss Penn spent 5½ years in India as a missionary and teacher. In her program she used dolls for the different mode of dress to demonstrate the different cast.

Miss Penn presented colored slides along with an informative talk of her work in India.

Life membership was presented to Mrs. Leonard Lytle.

Decorations of tulips and lilacs were used on the tables. The decorations were in charge of Circle No. 3.

CUT ON DIAMOND-SHAPED lines another scarf is designed as a fill-in for open necklines.

YOUNG AND TEMPTING is a chiffon scarf square that has a print of full-blown roses.

TOP ACCENTS

If the starkness of the new styles is getting you down, then try some top accents that will add a colorful note and help take the sack out of the bag and into fashion.

Here are three suggestions for adding a light, feminine touch. One is a scarf in oblong organza with a novel motif of stripes that graduate in ever-increasing width from the center outward. It can be worn as shown or in a huge pussy-cat bow.

Another is a chiffon square of roses on a white field, which is lovely when worn draped softly in a dowl effect.

A third is another floral print, which can be used as a long tie or draped without bulk as a cummerbund or sash to turn a chemise dress into a sheath.

THIS STRIPED OBLONG scarf is shown draped like a tie at the neck and caught low in the manner of the twenties.

Local Girl Charm Tutor In Virginia

By BARBARA

Mrs. Doris Lindsey Kirby, formerly of Circleville, the daughter of Mrs. Tim Mogan, 420 N. Scioto St., has organized a charm school in Culpeper, Va.

Three years ago Mrs. Kirby was modeling for a Richmond department store. Now she is teaching the girls how to look their prettiest through grooming, poise, posture, voice and diction, make-up, clothing and hair styling.

"It's the most gratifying experience I've ever had — helping them to make the most of these first years after the awkward age. And I hope, training them in habits that will last a lifetime," Mrs. Kirby said.

Mrs. Kirby now lives in Orange, where her husband, H. M. Kirby, is a lawyer and accountant. She also stages fashion shows throughout the area and writes continuity for a local radio station.

GIRLS attending the charm school range from 10 to 17-years-old.

Each girl carries her beauty tools in a model's hatbox. The older girls' boxes are equipped with cleansing cream, pressed powder, light lipstick and an eyelash curler.

Graduation and a dance at the country club complete the eight-class course.

NEW YORK (AP)— A new touring night club act has been produced as a new kind of sponsorship of entertainment by a manufacturing firm.

Stars of the cafe act are Florence Henderson and Bill Hayes, who both have appeared in Broadway shows and are currently under television contract to an auto maker (Oldsmobile).

There is to be no product advertising in the act, but it is expected that constant association of the performers will subtly promote the products with which they have become identified on TV screens.

Weeky Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Housewives and mothers get some cheerful news at their favorite store for Mother's Day weekend—cheaper, more plentiful vegetables and a wide variety of economy cuts of meat.

Inexpensive standbys such as chuck roast, ground beef and chickens will be featured. True, these specials are more costly than they once were, but at least they're less dear than steak and other fancy cuts.

Turkeys also will be the No. 1 item in some stores, reflecting the current plentiful supply. Veal is more popular than in recent weeks with offerings ranging from stew as low as 29 cents a pound to chops at 69 and 89 cents a pound.

Supplies of fish also are approaching their peak season with offerings of cod, haddock, flounder, smelts, lobster and fish sticks.

Vegetable prices head lower as weather - delayed early spring crops come to market along with those normally sent to the stores at this time of year. More-than-seasonal drops are predicted in the next few weeks.

Good buys this week are cabbage, cucumbers, spinach, escarole, enfive, radishes, carrots, onions and potatoes. New spuds from California are augmenting the last of Maine's storage crop, while onions are available from nearby areas as well as the regular Texas crop.

Business Finds 4 Ways To Fight Recession

Better Product, Big Sales Effort Top List Of Special Promotions

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — When business turns to fighting the recession itself instead of just waiting for Washington to do something about it the talk usually turns to four things:

New or better products, greater sales efforts, cost cutting so prices can come down and profits go up, and diversification.

Sales promotions and cost cutting, as something they can consider at once, hit the headlines most these days. New or better products, for most wide awake companies, are the result of research continually going on in good or bad times — and some of these results may take a while yet to hit the market.

Diversification has been a pet management gimmick since the war — one that mostly offered advantages for the offensive. Now it is reaping gains for some companies by its defensive qualities.

In all but a few industries, the 1958 results so far show that there will be one or more companies going against the trend in their own industry. For one reason or another they'll be increasing sales volume, even profit volume. Some thank one of the four things mentioned above for this and some another.

Hard hitting sales efforts—going out after the customer instead of waiting for him to come in to you—has paid off for many. Auto sales promotion campaigns have brought good results in a number of cities where people who still have money to spend were convinced they could get a good deal now.

Cost cutting aimed at a company's overhead is much in vogue these days. And one corporation head this week probably didn't endear himself to his own junior executives when he looked over industry as a whole and said there has been some paring back of the Indians but there still are too many chiefs.

Widow Said Poisoner of 4 Relatives

MACON, Ga. (AP)—A young widow faced murder charges today in the arsenic poisonings of her 9-year-old daughter, two husbands and mother-in-law over a six-year period.

Mrs. Anjette Donovan Lyles, 32, was arrested in a hospital room and placed under guard. She reportedly has been hospitalized since shortly after her daughter Marcia, died April 5.

Through her attorney, Mrs. Lyles said, "I have committed no crime."

In addition to the death of her daughter, Mrs. Lyles is accused of murdering her first husband, Ben F. Lyles Jr., Jan. 25, 1952; her second husband, Joe Neal Gabbert, Dec. 2, 1955; and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Ben F. Lyles Sr., Sept. 29, 1957.

Murder warrants were obtained by Coroner L. H. Chapman, who said tests by the state crime laoratory showed arsenic poison in the bodies of all four victims.

Mrs. Lyles (she resumed that name through a court order after Gabbert's death) operates a restaurant in downtown Macon.

Sheriff James I. Wood would not release information on a possible motive. He said he has "many facts which need verification before they can be released."

Fort Sumpter's Flag Returned to Display

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP) — The historic flag that flew over Fort Sumpter when the first shots of the Civil War were fired is back in its hermetically sealed display case.

It had been taken out for the first time in 93 years to be photographed in color by the National Park Service.

Ashville News Report

By Mrs. Art Deal Jr.

On May 5, the entire student body and the faculty from South Bloomfield School proceeded across the street from the school to the sanctuary of the Methodist Church. This marked the beginning of the final chapel service of the current school year. The Rev. Paul Lindsey, minister of the church, and Everett Mehrley, vocal instructor for the school, were in charge of the service.

First portion of the service consisted of several musical selections from several of the pupils of each grade. Mina Jean Moss and Janice Pettibone sang "Jesus Loves Me." Becky Young sang "He's Got the Whole World in His Hand." Sandra Tosca sang a gospel chorus "Deep and Wide." Billy Younkin read the scripture lesson from Psalm 46. The Navy Log Television theme song "Eternal Father", was sung by Natalie Neff, Vicky Pettibone and Cheryl Webster.

Next there was an organ —piano duet, "We Gather Together to Ask the Lord's Blessing", with Michael Roof at the Hammond Organ and Mr. Mehrley at the piano. Robert Roof and John Clemmons sang "My Task." Helen Brown and Susan George sang "This World is Not My Home." Marty Young and Nancy Tosca sang "Now I Belong to Jesus."

Rev. Lindsey presented a message on how to remember the various things which had been taught throughout the year, and how they must be practiced during the summer vacation. The service was concluded with the entire student body singing a prayer chorus, "Come Into My Heart," and then the Benediction. Robert Seward was visiting the school that morning and was a guest at the chapel service.

The Brotherhood of the United Brethren Church announces the beginning of their Saturday evening recreation at the park beginning Saturday at 7 p. m. All members are urged to attend.

The Bastian Funeral Home reports the following ambulance calls this week: On April 30, Robert Cline was taken to White Cross Hospital, Columbus; Friday, Denver Myers was taken to White Cross Hospital; Saturday, Whipple Dunnick was brought home from Doctors Hospital.

The Honor Banquet will be held May 16, in the school auditorium. The 6:30 buffet banquet will honor students in the high school and is being sponsored by the PTA.

The publicies invited and each family is asked to bring a well-filled basket including a meat dish. The PTA committee will furnish rolls, butter, coffee and sherbet.

ASHVILLE COUNCIL NEWS

The Ashville Village Council met for its regular meeting, Monday night. William R. Miller requested resignation from the Ashville-Harrison Volunteer Fire Dept. because of ill health. The village council expressed thanks to Miller for his faithful service for so many years.

Purchae by the village of the Southern and Ohio Electric Sub Station on Cromley St. was final. Repairs on the street in front of building were approved.

The Ashville Banking Co. has been selected by the council as official depository for village funds. Purchase of an elevator for removing debree at sewage beds was approved.

Council gave permission to the American Legion to hold dances in the community park on Thursday evenings the same as past years.

Sewer Superintendent, Steve Cook brought to council's attention that Guy Cline and Ralph Cloud would like to have the sanitary sewer extended north in the first alley east of Long St. so that the area could be developed.

Council agreed to go ahead with preliminary planning such as getting estimates.

Mayor Bozman added that the alleys and streets where the sewer was to be installed should be dedicated to the village and that all improvements would be charged to the respective property owners until such time as the streets and alleys are accepted.

An emergency ordinance was passed to hire Claude Ward as service director for the village.

The Ashville - Harrison Twp. Fire Department requests that all Harrison Twp. residents use fire numbers in reporting a fire. If numbers have bene misplaced or lost, please contact C. E. Cummins, chief, or Don Thompson, assistant chief.

Mrs. Don Nance suffered painful burns to her arm when a gas heater she was lighting backflashed.

Mrs. Elda Benke is retiring after this school term at Mt. Vernon School in Mt. Vernon. She is planning to make her home in Ashville in the near future.

Mr. Robert Cline, Long St., is recuperating in White Cross Hospital, Columbus, where she is being treated for a heart condition.

Don and Tom Rathburn visited April 26, with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harris and son Mike, Wellington recently. Mr. Harris formerly was superintendent of Ashville - Harrison Schools.

Mr. Denver Myers lost two fingers in a power mower Friday. He was taken to White Cross Hospital, Columbus, for emergency treatment.

Doug Mowery, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Mowery, received a cut above the eye last week while playing with playmates. Several stitches were required to close the wound.

This is the week of banquets around Ashville. Wednesday the Mother-Daughter Banquet of the First Lutheran Church will be held at the church beginning at 6:30 p. m. Thursday evening beginning at 6:30 the United Brethren Church will hold their Mother - Daughter Banquet in the church. Saturday evening the St. Paul Church Mother - Daughter Banquet will be held and in the church the Ashville Alumni Banquet will be held in the school beginning at 6:30 p. m.

Community Daily Vacation Bible School is being planned for the period of June 2-13. The school will meet Mondays through Fridays in the morning. Those interested in helping this year may see or call either Mrs. Virgil Close, phone 3451 or Mrs. Tom Purcell, phone 5934, or church ministers.

The Hedges Chapel Methodist Woman's Society is sponsoring a carry-in dinner at the church May 14 in honor of the graduating seniors of Walnut Twp. School.

The Ashville Civic Club met at the Lutheran Church, Thursday, with 41 guests and members present.

Mrs. Felix Dore', president, welcomed the 1958 graduating class of senior girls who were the honored guests. Devotions were presented by Mrs. Fred Engle.

Mrs. Stanley Bowers introduced the guest speaker for the evening, Miss Annaleises Muller of Brazil, a student at Ohio State University studying under a Pan-American Scholarship sponsored by the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs. She is working on her masters degree in secondary education.

She told of her native country and customs and how they compare with the United States. She sang several native songs. Everyone was enlightened by her wonderful personality.

A piano solo was presented by Miss Janet Bausum followed by a social hour. Punch and cookies were served from a table centered with red carnations.

After the social hour a short business meeting was held at which time Mrs. Don Flierl reported on the State Federation Meeting held in Columbus April 29, 30 and May 1. She announced that the group now is in District No. 7. Also attending were Mrs. Curtis Cromley, Mrs. Harry Margulis and Mrs. Warren Bastian.

Business Finds 4 Ways To Fight Recession

Better Product, Big Sales Effort Top List Of Special Promotions

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — When business turns to fighting the recession itself instead of just waiting for Washington to do something about it the talk usually turns to four things:

New or better products, greater sales efforts, cost cutting so prices can come down and profits go up, and diversification.

Sales promotions and cost cutting, as something they can consider at once, hit the headlines most these days. New or better products, for most wide awake companies, are the result of research continually going on in good or bad times — and some of these results may take a while yet to hit the market.

Diversification has been a pet management gimmick since the war — one that mostly offered advantages for the offensive. Now it is reaping gains for some companies by its defensive qualities.

In all but a few industries, the 1958 results so far show that there will be one or more companies going against the trend in their own industry. For one reason or another they'll be increasing sales volume, even profit volume. Some thank one of the four things mentioned above for this and some another.

Hard hitting sales efforts—going out after the customer instead of waiting for him to come in to you—has paid off for many. Auto sales promotion campaigns have brought good results in a number of cities where people who still have money to spend were convinced they could get a good deal now.

Cost cutting aimed at a company's overhead is much in vogue these days. And one corporation head this week probably didn't endear himself to his own junior executives when he looked over industry as a whole and said there has been some paring back of the Indians but there still are too many chiefs.

Widow Said Poisoner of 4 Relatives

MACON, Ga. (AP)—A young widow faced murder charges today in the arsenic poisonings of her 9-year-old daughter, two husbands and mother-in-law over a six-year period.

Mrs. Anjette Donovan Lyles, 32, was arrested in a hospital room and placed under guard. She reportedly has been hospitalized since shortly after her daughter Marcia, died April 5.

Through her attorney, Mrs. Lyles said, "I have committed no crime."

In addition to the death of her daughter, Mrs. Lyles is accused of murdering her first husband, Ben F. Lyles Jr., Jan. 25, 1952; her second husband, Joe Neal Gabbert, Dec. 2, 1955; and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Ben F. Lyles Sr., Sept. 29, 1957.

Murder warrants were obtained by Coroner L. H. Chapman, who said tests by the state crime laboratory showed arsenic poison in the bodies of all four victims.

Mrs. Lyles (she resumed that name through a court order after Gabbert's death) operates a restaurant in downtown Macon.

Sheriff James I. Wood would not release information on a possible motive. He said he has "many facts which need verification before they can be released."

Fort Sumpter's Flag Returned to Display

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP) — The historic flag that flew over Fort Sumpter when the first shots of the Civil War were fired is back in its hermetically sealed display case.

It had been taken out for the first time in 93 years to be photographed in color by the National Park Service.

Ashville News Report

By Mrs. Art Deal Jr.

On May 5, the entire student body and the faculty from South Bloomfield School proceeded across the street from the school to the sanctuary of the Methodist Church. This marked the beginning of the final chapel service of the current school year. The Rev. Paul Lindsey, minister of the church, and Everett Mehrley, vocal instructor for the school, were in charge of the service.

First portion of the service consisted of several musical selections from several of the pupils of each grade. Mina Jean Moss and Janice Pettibone sang "Jesus Loves Me." Becky Young sang "He's Got the Whole World in His Hand." Sandra Tosca sang a gospel chorus "Deep and Wide." Billy Younkin read the scripture lesson from Psalm 46. The Navy Log Television theme song "Eternal Father", was sung by Natalie Neff, Vicky Pettibone and Cheryl Webster.

Next there was an organ —piano duet, "We Gather Together to Ask the Lord's Blessing", with Michael Roof at the Hammond Organ and Mr. Mehrley at the piano. Robert Roof and John Clemmons sang "My Task." Helen Brown and Susan George sang "This World is Not My Home." Marty Young and Nancy Tosca sang "Now I Belong to Jesus."

Rev. Lindsey presented a message on how to remember the various things which had been taught throughout the year, and how they must be practiced during the summer vacation. The service was concluded with the entire student body singing a prayer chorus, "Come Into My Heart," and then the Benediction. Robert Seward was visiting the school that morning and was a guest at the chapel service.

The Brotherhood of the United Brethren Church announces the beginning of their Saturday evening recreation at the park beginning Saturday at 7 p. m. All members are urged to attend.

The Bastian Funeral Home reports the following ambulance calls this week: On April 30, Robert Cline was taken to White Cross Hospital, Columbus; Friday, Denver Myers was taken to White Cross Hospital; Saturday, Whipple Dunnick was brought home from Doctors Hospital.

The Honor Banquet will be held May 16, in the school auditorium. The 6:30 buffet banquet will honor students in the high school and is being sponsored by the PTA.

The publicies invited and each family is asked to bring a well-filled basket including a meat dish. The PTA committee will furnish rolls, butter, coffee and sherbet.

ASHVILLE COUNCIL NEWS

The Ashville Village Council met for its regular meeting, Monday night. William R. Miller requested resignation from the Ashville-Harrison Volunteer Fire Dept. because of ill health. The village council expressed thanks to Miller for his faithful service for so many years.

Purchae by the village of the Southern and Ohio Electric Sub Station on Cromley St. was final. Repairs on the street in front of building were approved.

The Ashville Banking Co. has been selected by the council as official depository for village funds. Purchase of an elevator for removing debree at sewage beds was approved.

Council gave permission to the American Legion to hold dances in the community park on Thursday evenings the same as past years.

Sewer Superintendent, Steve Cook brought to council's attention that Guy Cline and Ralph Cloud would like to have the sanitary sewer extended north in the first alley east of Long St. so that the area could be developed.

Council agreed to go ahead with preliminary planning such as getting estimates.

Mayor Bozman added that the alleys and streets where the sewer was to be installed should be dedicated to the village and that all improvements would be charged to the respective property owners until such time as the streets and alleys are accepted.

An emergency ordinance was passed to hire Claude Ward as service director for the village.

The Ashville - Harrison Twp. Fire Department requests that all Harrison Twp. residents use fire numbers in reporting a fire. If numbers have bene misplaced or lost, please contact C. E. Cummins, chief, or Don Thompson, assistant chief.

Mrs. Don Nance suffered painful burns to her arm when a gas heater she was lighting backflashed.

Mrs. Elda Benke is retiring after this school term at Mt. Vernon School in Mt. Vernon. She is planning to make her home in Ashville in the near future.

Mr. Robert Cline, Long St., is recuperating in White Cross Hospital, Columbus, where she is being treated for a heart condition.

Don and Tom Rathburn visited April 26, with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harris and son Mike, Wellington recently. Mr. Harris formerly was superintendent of Ashville - Harrison Schools.

Mr. Denver Myers lost two fingers in a power mower Friday. He was taken to White Cross Hospital, Columbus, for emergency treatment.

Doug Mowery, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Mowery, received a cut above the eye last week while playing with playmates. Several stitches were required to close the wound.

This is the week of banquets around Ashville. Wednesday the Mother-Daughter Banquet of the First Lutheran Church will be held at the church beginning at 6:30 p. m. Thursday evening beginning at 6:30 the United Brethren Church will hold their Mother - Daughter Banquet in the church. Saturday evening the St. Paul Church Mother - Daughter Banquet will be held and in the church the Ashville Alumni Banquet will be held in the school beginning at 6:30 p. m.

Community Daily Vacation Bible School is being planned for the period of June 2-13. The school will meet Mondays through Fridays in the morning. Those interested in helping this year may see or call either Mrs. Virgil Close, phone 3451 or Mrs. Tom Purcell, phone 5934, or church ministers.

The Hedges Chapel Methodist Woman's Society is sponsoring a carry-in dinner at the church May 14 in honor of the graduating seniors of Walnut Twp. School.

The Ashville Civic Club met at the Lutheran Church, Thursday, with 41 guests and members present.

Mrs. Felix Dore', president, welcomed the 1958 graduating class of senior girls who were the honored guests. Devotions were presented by Mrs. Fred Engle.

Mrs. Stanley Bowers introduced the guest speaker for the evening, Miss Annaleises Muller of Brazil, a student at Ohio State University studying under a Pan-American Scholarship sponsored by the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs. She is working on her masters degree in secondary education.

She told of her native country and customs and how they compare with the United States. She sang several native songs. Everyone was enlightened by her wonderful personality.

A piano solo was presented by Miss Janet Bausum followed by a social hour. Punch and cookies were served from a table centered with red carnations.

After the social hour a short business meeting was held at which time Mrs. Don Flierl reported on the State Federation Meeting held in Columbus April 29, 30 and May 1. She announced that the group now is in District No. 7. Also attending were Mrs. Curtis Cromley, Mrs. Harry Margulis and Mrs. Warren Bastian.

Ohio River Goes on Rare May Rampage

Crest of 6 Feet Over Flood Stage Expected Saturday

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Ohio River, on a rare May rampage, rose steadily here today toward an expected 57 to 58-foot crest, it passed the 52-foot flood stage at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday and the crest is expected Saturday morning, barring further heavy rains.

Upstream the story was the same—the river was heading toward crests several feet above flood stage at most points.

This is the first time since 1933 that the river has been above flood stage here in May.

If the present forecasts hold, however, it appeared damage would be minor. In these days of floodwalls and the like, the long existing flood stages do not necessarily mean a flood of serious proportions.

Hardest hit probably will be farmers in the lowlands whose spring field work will be retarded seriously.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at Huntington, W. Va., forecast a crest today of 44 feet at Pt. Pleasant, W. Va., where flood stage is 40 feet; 49.7 feet at Gallipolis where flood stage is 50 feet; 53.5 feet at midnight tonight at huntington where flood stage is 50 feet; 57 feet at Ashland, Ky., Friday where flood stage is 51 feet, and 57.5 feet at Greenup, Ky., Friday night where flood stage is 52 feet.

Ironton expected a 54-foot stage, four feet above flood stage, but is protected by a 73-foot flood wall. At Portsmouth the situation was much the same. It has a 77-foot flood wall and the expected crest of 55 feet will be five feet over flood stage.

Portsmouth officials said the rising water was only a matter of "inconvenience."

A stage of 57 to 58 feet here would mean the closing of about 100 streets but most of those are secondary thoroughfares or dead-end streets at the river front.

For the first time in its 72-year-old history the Coney Island Amusement Park had to cancel an opening. It was scheduled to be opened for the weekend but President Edward L. Schott said the picnic grounds would be flooded at 50 feet, the mall at 56 feet and the Moonlite Gardens dance pavilion at 60 feet.

The rising water also was flooding parts of the River Downs Race track, east of Coney Island, and 160 horses were moved out Wednesday as a precautionary measure. The horses were in training here for the opening of the River Downs race meeting May 30. President Leon Slavin said, however, he expected the meeting to open on schedule.

Another "casualty" was the river steamer Delta Queen. She wasn't expected to be able to get to her normal wharf on a trip here from Louisville, Ky., and will tie up at Ludlow, Ky. Passengers scheduled to leave Saturday on a cruise to New Orleans will have to board her at Ludlow.

The Delta Queen can't get under the suspension bridge here at the 51-foot stage even with her stacks removed.

Seven families in nearby Newtown were floodd out Wednesday night and given temporary living quarters by the Red Cross. There also was the customary flooding of some homes along the river front within Cincinnati itself.

Queen Matilda of Flanders, the wife of William the Conqueror, spent most of her time weaving tapestry. One of her celebrated tapestries is now displayed in the Cathedral of Bayeaux.

Backward Beginning

NEW YORK (AP)— Noel Coward switched show business tradition by making Broadway a try-out stop for his out-of-town tour.

Plays usually arrive on the Great White Way after preliminary testing on the road, but Coward reversed things because of plans to alternate performances of two of his shows, "Present Laughter" and "Nude with Violin" during cross-country travels.

"Nude with Violin," a sellout during its limited engagement here, brought Coward back to Broadway for the first time in 25 years.

Reservations for Americans In Europe Growing Scarce

PARIS (AP) — European innkeepers peered over their bulging reservation files today and concluded they could shoehorn in a few more American tourists. One expert admitted:

"You may ask for a double with bath and get an attic with a water bottle."

The one almost hopeless spot is Burssels, where the Belgians are staging a world's fair. Hotels are so packed there that many tourists are commuting to the fair from other cities.

Along the tourist axis of Britain - France - Germany - Italy the harried traveler can still get rooms if he looks around a bit.

By June, airlines say they expect to be handling 20 per cent more passengers than last year.

The French tourist office says low and medium class hotels have rooms during even peak seasons. The better hotels in Paris already are packed.

In Germany and Austria the innkeepers fear occasional bottlenecks but feel they can provide enough pillows for tired tourists. However, the Austrians warn that during events like the Salzburg Festival only an adventurous tourist would go without a prior reservation.

The Italians are building up motels and medium class hotels, especially in the south, but a tourist office spokesman urges travelers to try an off-season vacation in Italy.

Tourists seeking first class hotels in London come up against a mathematical impossibility — the British say demand will exceed supply by about 3,000 roomers. However, there are plenty of smaller hotels and inns—lacking the most modern plumbing perhaps but generally comfortable.

Redstone Missile Test Postponed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla (AP) — The scheduled firing of a Redstone ballistic missile, with Army field troops reportedly at the controls, was postponed Wednesday afternoon because of technical difficulties.

The 69-foot Redstone, largest ballistic missile fired successfully by the Army, will be deployed to overseas bases later this year. At present, it is assigned to handpicked Army units for training purposes.

It was the Redstone which helped to boost the Army's two Explorer earth satellites into orbit as the first stage of the mighty Jupiter C vehicle.

Dr. Flemming Named by Ike To Cabinet

Folsom To Step Down As Welfare Secretary After July 15

WASHINGTON (AP)—Marion Folsom resigned yesterday as secretary of welfare, and President Eisenhower picked Dr. Arthur Flemming, president of Ohio Wesleyan University, to succeed him.

Folsom, 64, wrote Eisenhower he is leaving the cabinet for personal reasons which he did not specify. He will step down sometime between July 15 and Aug. 1.

Accepting Folsom's resignation, Eisenhower sent to the Senate a formal nomination of Flemming to be chief of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Flemming is a former director of the Office of Defense Mobilization and for many years was a member of the Civil Service Commission.

The White House said that Folsom, former treasurer of the Eastman Kodak Co., who came to the administration in 1955, had informed Eisenhower of a desire to return to private life.

PRESS SECRETARY James C. Hagerty said at that time no letter of resignation had been received from Folsom.

In a letter to Eisenhower dated Tuesday, Folsom reminded the President that "last year I told you that for personal reasons it would be necessary for me to leave government service sometime this year."

Folsom at present is taking a rest in Florida, reportedly on orders from his physician. In reply to questions, Hagerty said he had no information regarding the state of Folsom's health.

Flemming, who will be 53 on June 12, is a former director of the Office of Defense Mobilization, and already has had wide experience elsewhere in government.

He served as a Civil Service commissioner from 1939 to 1948, when he was elected president of Ohio Wesleyan.

Flemming kept his contacts with government by serving on various boards and commissions and then in 1951 took a leave of absence from the university to become assistant to Charles E. Wilson, then director of defense mobilization.

Later, Flemming took over as the head of ODM before returning to Ohio Wesleyan in March 1957.

He has continued to devote part of his time to government assignments and only last week conferred with Eisenhower as a member of a committee on government reorganization.

Something Is Wrong With Airmail Service

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — Jerome Hirschberg, who received two air mail postcards from Texas, is wondering whether they came by plane or on the prevailing winds.

Hirschberg, president of the Selbar Optical Co. here, said the cards were mailed in Amarillo last January. The cards contained orders, he said.

FCC Aides Agree To Decline Help

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert T. Bartley says he and his fellow Federal Communications Commissioners have decided, as a matter of policy, to decline free hotel accommodations when attending industry conventions.

He made no reference to criticism of some FCC members on the ground they have accepted favors from the radio and telvision industry which thy rgulat. Such criticism was voiced at recent hearings by a House subcommittee on FCC operations.

Bartley, 49, is a nephew of Speaker Sam Rayburn.

Ohio University Plans Hike inFees

ATHENS (AP) — Ohio University fees will go up in September.

The university has announced a $20 per semester increase in fees and $18 per semester hike in board rate, making fees comparable to those being charged by other state universities.

The increase raises the comprehensive registration fee for one semester from $115 to $135, while the $1 a week board rate hike brings the semester's bill to $234. The fee for non-state residents will be advanced $25 to $285 per semester.

Increased costs make the increases necessary, says President John C. Baker.

Niagara Indians Renew Opposition

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP) — Tuscarora Indians halted a new attempt by the State Power Authority Wednesday to survey their land.

Repeating the tribe's tactics of last month, Tuscarora women stood in front of transits to make the work of the surveying party impossible.

A brief scuffle occurred around U. S. Dep. Marshal Homer Congdon when he began passing out copies of a court order authorizing the surveying.

About 50 Tuscaroras assembled earlier today at the edge of the reservation where the surveyors attempted to enter last month to map land the state wants to use in connecion with the Niagara power project.

Has Man a Right To Outer Space?

By GEORGE CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

". . . And God said unto them . . . replenish the earth and subdue it; and have dominion . . . over every living thing that moveth on the earth."

These words, the original assignment given to humanity in Genesis 1:28, didn't include outer space in man's province of rule.

But now he's reaching into that sector. Is he overstepping his bounds?

Not in any geographical sense, said the Very Rev. Msgr. Charles Walsh, of the Roman Caholic Confraternity of Christian Doctrine. "The Book of Genesis is not that literalistic."

This seems to be the general religious view, Catholic, Protesant and Jewish, although there is some opinion to the contrary.

Unlike bygone ages when new scienific strides sometimes stirred church protests, no such wide repercussions have come from space flight projects.

However, some biblical experts do question it on ethical grounds—or from direct Scripture as set forth in Genesis.

"We have been given the right to master the forces of the earth," said Dr. Abraham Heschel, one of Judaism's foremost scholars. "We were not given the right to master the forces of other planets."

Most religious leaders, however, have raised no theological objections to space exploration so far as physical boundaries are concerned.

The Rev. Dr. Robert Brown, of the interdenominational Union Theological Seminary, noted that while the Genesis verse does not specifically include space in man's realm of activity, it also does not exclude it.

Both he and Msgr. Walsh suggested the term "earth," in the Old Testament setting, referred to the whole created order.

Some theologians, however, question the ethical basis for man's leap into space, and the motives.

The Rev. Dr. Samuel Terrien, a noted Old Testament scholar, said that in a sense the step is a "manifestation of man's craving for unlimited power, for self-sufficiency in the universe, to be like God."

That, he noted, was the mistake of Adam.

In certain ways, however, some religious leaders believe space exploration may even kindle greater faith.

Said Dr. Robert Gordis, of Jewish Theological Seminary: "If the ancients saw God's glory pervading the earth, how much greater should be man's reverence when he sees God's manifestations on horizons wider than ever dreamed in the past."

Vote for Taft Said Warning

Cincinnatian's Aide Points to 'Protest'

CLEVELAND (AP) — "Charles P. Taft's remarkable showing in the primary election is a tribute to Mr. Taft and also against the instrong protest vote against the incumbent governor," Howard I. Chesler, chairman of the Taft-for-Governor Committee, said yesterday.

Chesler issued a statement from his office here which added:

"Mr. Taft's success in having 35 to 37 per cent of the Republicans place their X in front of his name shows most clearly what an outstanding person can do with the help of only a handful of volunteers and friends.

"Mr. Taft has rendered a major service to the Republican Party. He has demonstrated clearly that the incumbent governor and the entire Republican ticket must take immediate and far-reaching action if the party is to win in November.

"The opposition must not be dismissed lightly in the coming election, but rather that kind of campaign must be waged that will appeal, not only to those persons who voted for the governor, but also to the many persons who voted for Mr. Taft."

• • •

IN TOLEDO, O'neill said the big vote given Taft "was just about what I anticipated."

The governor said he attributed the vote of Taft's reputation throughout the state, not to any Republican criticism of the Ohio administration. And he said the Taft vote would not mean that his campaign plans would be altered in any way.

Actress Says Chemise Can Hide Many 'Sins'

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—One time silent screen siren Gloria Swanson says the chemise fits grandma just right. Gloria herself proudly admits to 59. Now turned fashion designer, she told a department store audience the chemise—inelegantly dubbed the sack—"hides a multitude of sins."

Has Man a Right To Outer Space?

By GEORGE CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

". . . And God said unto them . . . replenish the earth and subdue it; and have dominion . . . over every living thing that moveth on the earth."

These words, the original assignment given to humanity in Genesis 1:28, didn't include outer space in man's province of rule.

But now he's reaching into that sector. Is he overstepping his bounds?

Not in any geographical sense, said the Very Rev. Msgr. Charles Walsh, of the Roman Caholic Confraternity of Christian Doctrine. "The Book of Genesis is not that literalistic."

This seems to be the general religious view, Catholic, Protestant and Jewish, although there is some opinion to the contrary.

Unlike bygone ages when new scienific strides sometimes stirred church protests, no such wide repercussions have come from space flight projects.

However, some biblical experts do question it on ethical grounds—or from direct Scripture as set forth in Genesis.

"We have been given the right to master the forces of the earth," said Dr. Abraham Heschel, one of Judaism's foremost scholars. "We were not given the right to master the forces of other planets."

Most religious leaders, however, have raised no theological objections to space exploration so far as physical boundaries are concerned.

The Rev. Dr. Robert Brown, of the interdenominational Union Theological Seminary, noted that while the Genesis verse does not specifically include space in man's realm of activity, it also does not exclude it.

Both he and Msgr. Walsh suggested the term "earth," in the Old Testament setting, referred to the whole created order.

Some theologians, however, question the ethical basis for man's leap into space, and the motives.

The Rev. Dr. Samuel Terrien, a noted Old Testament scholar, said that in a sense the step is a "manifestation of man's craving for unlimited power, for self-sufficiency in the universe, to be like God."

That, he noted, was the mistake of Adam.

In certain ways, however, some religious leaders believe space exploration may even kindle greater faith.

Said Dr. Robert Gordis, of Jewish Theological Seminary: "If the ancients saw God's glory pervading the earth, how much greater should be man's reverence when he sees God's manifestations on horizons wider than ever dreamed in the past."

Vote for Taft Said Warning

Cincinnatian's Aide Points to 'Protest'

CLEVELAND (AP) — "Charles P. Taft's remarkable showing in the primary election is a tribute to Mr. Taft and also against the in-strong protest vote against the incumbent governor," Howard I. Chesler, chairman of the Taft-for-Governor Committee, said yesterday.

Chesler issued a statement from his office here which added:

"Mr. Taft's success in having 35 to 37 per cent of the Republicans place their X in front of his name shows most clearly what an outstanding person can do with the help of only a handful of volunteers and friends.

"Mr. Taft has rendered a major service to the Republican Party. He has demonstrated clearly that the incumbent governor and the entire Republican ticket must take immediate and far-reaching action if the party is to win in November.

"The opposition must not be dismissed lightly in the coming election, but rather that kind of campaign must be waged that will appeal, not only to those persons who voted for the governor, but also to the many persons who voted for Mr. Taft."

• • •

IN TOLEDO, O'neill said the big vote given Taft "was just about what I anticipated."

The governor said he attributed the vote of Taft's reputation throughout the state, not to any Republican criticism of the Ohio administration. And he said the Taft vote would not mean that his campaign plans would be altered in any way.

Actress Says Chemise Can Hide Many 'Sins'

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—One time silent screen siren Gloria Swanson says the chemise fits grandma just right. Gloria herself proudly admits to 59. Now turned fashion designer, she told a department store audience the chemise—inelegantly dubbed the sack—"hides a multitude of sins."

4-H CLUB NEWS

By Clarence Cunningham
Associate County Agent

A county wide Rural Life Sunday Worship Service is scheduled 7:30 a. m. at the fairgrounds in Circleville. "Homework for Christianity" will be the topic of a message by The Rev. Harold Braden.

All 4-H club members, parents, advisors, and other interested citizens are invited to the early morning worship, according to the 4-H Junior Leader Planning Committee.

Forty seven 4-H clubs in Pickaway County are organized for the 1958 year. Nearly 800 boys and girls are enrolled and have started one or more projects which will occupy their time during this summer.

These members will participate in local club meetings, tours, picnics and other activities. In addition, many club members will participate in county wide activities such as Rural Life Sunday, fitting and showing livestock demonstrations in two June meetings, junior campers will be at Tar Hollow July 14-18 followed by senior campers July 22-26, and the Recreation and Rural Arts contest on August 1.

4-H members climax their year by exhibiting at the Pickaway County Fair September 9-13.

Logan Elm Sunny Sewers
By Beverly Bower

The April 23rd meeting of the Logan Elm Sunny Sewers was opened by President Patty Moats. The 4-H pledge was led by Lois Wilson. Mrs. Fred Dudleson handed out project books. Sharon Sharrett was chosen as safety leader.

Demonstrations were given by Janet DeLong on how to prepare a tea towel for hemming and Mary Luton on how to prepare material for a luncheon cloth.

Refreshments were served by Connie Dunkle, Bonnie Riffel and Donna and Ellen Whaley.

The next meeting will be held May 14 at Pickaway Twp. School.

Perry Township Jr. Livestock
By Vivian Gifford

The third 4-H meeting of the Perry Township Junior Livestock club was held April 22 in the Atlanta School.

The meeting was opened by Darrell Wisecup and the 4-H pledge was lead by Paul Morris.

Suggestions were given for community projects. Joie Skinner suggested we take materials for sewing to the Orient Home. A motion was made to do so by Darrell Long and seconded by Brooks McCoy.

Reports were given on hereford steer by Dick Somers and on beef breeding by Larry Martin.

Refreshments were served by Linda and Darrell Wisecup and Patty and Donna Lee Kempton.

Jackson Jolly Tasters and Basters
By Judy Huston

The meeting opened with the 4-H pledge. Members answered roll call by naming their favorite flower.

The club will attend the Scioto Chapel EUB Church on Rural Life Sunday. Judy Huston won a basting contest conducted by the club's adviser, Mrs. Ben Walker.

The next meeting will be today at the school.

Merry Mixers
By Carolyn Walters

Twenty-four girls and two advisers were present for the April 24 meeting of the Merry Mixers.

In honor of Rural Life Sunday, it was decided to attend Trinity Lutheran Church.

Demonstrations were given by Beverly Hardesty on gas forming on yeast, and Melody Shea on setting a table correctly.

Demonstrations for the next meeting, May 12, will be given by Carol Steck and Sharon Evans, Martha Thomas, Debbie Ankrom and Carolyn Walters.

Blue Ribbon Chefs
By Carol Davis

Beverly McKenzie called the meeting of the Club Ribbon Chefs to order April 29. Jane Hockman led the 4-H pledge. Roll call was answered by telling why members joined a 4-H cooking club.

The constitution was read by Peggy Gifford and approved by the members. The club voted to give 50 cents for the expenses of the exchange student that will visit our county. On May 11 will attend Rural Life Sunday Worship Service.

Patty Watson was appointed song leader.

A demonstration on caring for the teeth was given by Janice Riffle. Beverly Coey gave a safety quiz. Jane Hockman gave a talk on "4-H and You". Project books and assignments were distributed to all members.

The next meeting will be held May 13 at Pickaway School.

Scioto Hardy Workers
By Cheryl Thomas

The Scioto Township Hardy Workers met at the Scioto School on April 30 at 3:15 p. m.

Carlynn Gulick called the meeting to order. Sophie Hoover led the 4-H pledge. Members answered the roll call by naming our favorite hobby.

The club donated 50 cents for a girl from Ecuador, to come to Pickaway County. They voted to go to the Commercial Point Methodist Church on Rural Life Sunday.

The next meeting is May 14 at the school house.

Future Farmers of Monroe
By Karen Trump

The Future Farmers of Monroe held their fourth 4-H club meeting April 23, at Monroe school.

The meeting was called to order by president Judy Dennis after which Sue Houser, secretary and James Shell, treasurer, read their reports.

Community projects were discussed and suggestions were given. It was decided to donate an undecided amount of money to Berger Hospital as one of these projects. James Shell is in charge of planning.

Rural Life Sunday was discussed and a committee for the event was appointed. Following the meeting there was a discussion on safety and an explanation of safety posters which had been made.

A recreation program followed.

Logan Elm Livestock
By Jane Bayes

At the first meeting of the Logan Elm Livestock 4-H Club, the following officers were elected: Bill Harral, president; Ned Musselman, vice president; Jayne Bayes, secretary and news reporter; Geneva Lauerman, treasurer; Norman Wilson and Geneva Lauerman, health leaders; Jerry Patrick and Joyce Miller, safety leaders; and Ronnie Jacobs and Janice Umsted, recreation leaders. Ken Jacobs is serving as leader this year.

It was decided to hold meetings in members' homes this year. The next meeting will be in the home of Ronnie Jacobs.

South Bloomfield Busy Bodies
By Susan George

Roll was called and each member paid their dues and gave a health suggestion.

It was the third meeting of the South Bloomfield Busy Bodies held at the school.

President Marty Young called the meeting to order. Cakes and cookies were judged during the session. Demonstrations were given by Marty and Cindy Young and Janet Accord.

There was a discussion on different projects. Refreshments were served by Vicky Pettibone and Susan George. Next meeting will be held at the school May 13.

Madison Merrymaids
By Sandra Porter

The Madison Merrymaids meeting was held at the Sherman girls' home last week.

The meeting was called to order by Sylvia Sherman, president. The meeting opened with the 4-H pledge.

The roll was called and answered by members naming a kind of material. The minutes and the treasurer's report was given. The business meeting followed.

New business was what our community project would be. A motion was made to make tea towels for a church.

Another motion was made to buy a flag. Beverly Sherman gave a talk on "What Winter Does to Your Face." Joan Tegtmeir told what should be in the sewing box.

The group will attend church on Mother's Day. The meeting closed with the "Lord's Prayer".

Monroe Stitchettes and Bakettes
By Judy Dennis

The Monroe Stitchettes and Bakettes held their meeting on April 29.

Linda Long led the 4-H club pledge. Thirty-four answered the roll call.

During the business session the club decided to purchase material for dish towels. These will be made and given to the two churches and school and community club as a community project. Judy Dennis and Jeanette Brigner will purchase the material.

Plans for the Arbor Day program were discussed and the club will plant a Spirea at the next 4-H meeting.

Sixteen 4-H club signs were ordered by members. The club voted to donate three dollars to the girl IFYE student who will visit our county from Ecuador.

Betty Beathard, Lorena Blair, Carolyn Wright, Judy and Sue Dennis were appointed as a committee to see that each club member gives a demonstration during the year.

All members were urged to attend the county 4-H Rural Life Sunday services on May 11. Jeanette Brigner gave a health talk on posture and Judy Dennis gave a safety talk on killers least suspected.

Salads were judged by MMrs. Stoer and Mrs Haller during the recreation hour.

Deercreek Busy Bees
By Sandy Sollars

The fourth meeting of the Deercreek Busy Bees 4-H club was held at the Williamsport School May 1.

The meeting was called to order by President Peggy Clark. The 4-H pledge was said in unison. Following the secretary's report favorite foods were mentioned in response to the roll call.

The new constitution was read by Virginia Barnes and approved by all the members. Refreshments were planned for the Junior Leadership meeting May 15.

Following adjournment, the Junior Leader members had a special meeting. May 15 was announced as the date of the next meeting.

Darby Cooks of Tomorrow
By Mindabelle Harris

The Darby Cooks of Tomorrow's fifth meeting was held at the home of an adviser, Mrs. Lloyd Grabill, on April 18.

The meeting was called to order by repeating the Lord's Prayer. With roll call each member repeated the 4-H club pledge. All but one of the members were present.

We discussed the selling of our corsages and air fresheners. The corsages are colorfully attractive.

The meeting was adjourned by Judy Rader with the next meeting scheduled for May 9.

Lunch consisted of hot cakes with syrup and butter, fried ham, fruit salad, cup cakes and iced tea.

Jackson Livestock
By Joan List

The regular meeting of the Jackson Livestock 4-H club was held April 22 at Jackson School. Twenty-seven members were present at the meeting.

The club decided to hold meetings at the homes after the end of the school year. Plans were made for the club's participation in the county officers and advisers conference.

Recreation followed the meeting in the form of basketball, ping pong and volley ball.

Future Electricians
By Drexel Poling

Vice president Leroy Hagen presided in the absence of the president at the meeting held in the REA office on April 28.

Plans were made for the next meeting which will be held at the home of Drexel Poling on May 12. The possibility of wiring the Girl Scout Lodge as a public service project was discussed.

Pickaway Live Wires
By Joe Goeller

The first meeting of the Pickaway Live Wires 4-H club was held on April 29 at Pickaway School. Officers were elected as follows: Larry McKenzie, president; Bill Parker, vice president; Patty Hockman secretary; Bill Harral, treasurer; Joe Goeller, news reporter. Mr. Cunningham, the Associate County Agent, was present to explain the year's first and second year electric projects.

The next meeting will be held May 8 at 8 p. m. in Pickaway School.

Buttons and Bowls
By Linda Trimmer

The fourth meeting of the Buttons and Bowls 4-H club was held May 3 at the home of Vera Ellen Congrove.

During the business meeting, the club decided to donate 50 cents to the IFYE student who is coming to Pickaway County. Each member was urged to attend the county wide Rural Life Sunday and to give a report on project progress.

After the meeting the club program for the year was set up. Jimmy Lands is to have a demonstration for the next meeting.

South Bloomfield Busy Bodies
By Susan George

Roll was called and each member paid their dues and gave a health suggestion.

It was the third meeting of the South Bloomfield Busy Bodies held at the school.

President Marty Young called the meeting to order. Cakes and cookies were judged during the session. Demonstrations were given by Marty and Cindy Young and Janet Accord.

There was a discussion on different projects. Refreshments were served by Vicky Pettibone and Susan George. Next meeting will be held at the school May 13.

Madison Merrymaids
By Sandra Porter

The Madison Merrymaids meeting was held at the Sherman girls' home last week.

The meeting was called to order by Sylvia Sherman, president.

The meeting opened with the 4-H pledge.

The roll was called and answered by members naming a kind of material. The minutes and the treasurer's report was given. The business meeting followed.

New business was what our community project would be. A motion was made to make tea towels for a church.

Another motion was made to buy a flag. Beverly Sherman gave a talk on "What Winter Does to Your Face." Joan Tegtmeir told what should be in the sewing box.

The group will attend church on Mother's Day. The meeting closed with the "Lord's Prayer".

Monroe Stitchettes and Bakettes
By Judy Dennis

The Monroe Stitchettes and Bakettes held their meeting on April 29.

Linda Long led the 4-H club pledge. Thirty-four answered the roll call.

During the business session the club decided to purchase material for dish towels. These will be made and given to the two churches and school and community club as a community project. Judy Dennis and Jeanette Brigner will purchase the material.

Plans for the Arbor Day program were discussed and the club will plant a Spirea at the next 4-H meeting.

Sixteen 4-H club signs were ordered by members. The club voted to donate three dollars to the girl IFYE student who will visit our county from Ecuador.

Betty Beathard, Lorena Blair, Carolyn Wright, Judy and Sue Dennis were appointed as a committee to see that each club member gives a demonstration during the year.

All members were urged to attend the county 4-H Rural Life Sunday services on May 11. Jeanette Brigner gave a health talk on posture and Judy Dennis gave a safety talk on killers least suspected.

Salads were judged by MMrs. Stoer and Mrs Haller during the recreation hour.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Eisenhower is getting his hair mussed on two major programs. He's in bad trouble on both. He has talked a lot in favor of both. It remains to be seen what else he'll do besides talk.

He has a record of making public statements in behalf of programs he sends to Congress and then leaving the infighting to others — like pressuring members of Congress, buttonholing them, telephoning them.

It's for this tactic particularly that he's been criticized for lack of leadership. Now his reciprocal trade program and his plan to reorganize the Defense Department are getting kicked around.

Take them one at a time:

Reciprocal trade — This 24-year old program dies June 30 unless Congress prolongs it. Eisenhower has asked that it be extended five years more. This is its purpose:

To encourage trade this country can lower tariffs on imports from other nations if they lower their tariffs on imports from us. Eisenhower wants power to cut American tariffs another 25 per cent in return for concessions from others.

He considers this program of the utmost importance in helping build up non-Communist countries and keeping them away from Communist influence. The Soviets are stepping up their trade programs. The trade itself doesn't mean much to them.

Last November Premier Khrushchev said, "We declare war upon the United States . . . in the peaceful field of trade." But three years ago he explained what was behind Soviet trading: "We value trade least for economic and most for political purposes."

In 1957 American exports were 21 billion dollars, imports only 13 billions. But there is strong opposition to the trade program Eisenhower asked, from both Democrats and Republicans. A majority in both parties in the House appears to be against it.

Republican opposition in the House has been estimated at 4-1.

Exports mean a lot of money to a lot of American workers and businesses. But imports are poison to a lot of workers and businesses because of the competition involved.

Eisenhower has estimated that knocking out the trade program would jeopardize the jobs of 4½ million American workers. Foes of the trade program not only complain it hurts them but argue tariff-setting should be controlled by Congress.

Opposition is coming from the South, where the textile and plywood industries feel hurt by imports; oil states in the Southwest are opposed; so are zinc and lead states in the West. The coal miners of West Virginia are against it because imported fuel and residual oils are in competition with coal.

Defense reorganization — Its purpose: to provide for "unified planning and direction" of the armed forces by strengthening the authority of Secretary of Defense McElroy and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Even the armed services themselves, as they expressed their views to Congress, are divided: the Army and Air Force are in favor; the Navy and Marines have found things about the plan they don't like.

And there's division in Congress, even among the most powerful Democrats.

Rep. Carl Vinson, Georgia Democrat and chairman of the very influential Armed Services Committee of the House, is the toughest and loudest foe. But Rep. Clarence Cannon, Missouri Democrat and chairman of the extremely influential Appropriations Committee, is all for the program.

There's a good chance — despite all Eisenhower's urgings to the contrary — that the plan will be badly watered down if not shoved aside. Vinson's committee is writing a substitute proposal.

Just to show what kind of watering down the program faces: Vinson said his group could write its substitute on the back of an envelope.

Foreign aid — In this field Eisenhower's program looks healthier. He asked almost four billions dollars to continue it another year. The House Foreign Affairs Committee has approved after lopping off 300 millions. It still may see rough days.

Play with Matches Is Fatal to Boy

DAYTON (AP)—Four-year-old Terry Jillison was fatally burned Wednesday while his frantic mother tried to break into a garage where he was trapped.

Police said the boy and two companions were playing with matches in a garage at the rear of a neighbor's home when the boy's clothes were ignited.

The two other children became panicky, police said, and in fleeing from the garage slammed the door, automatically locking it.

The boy was freed by the neighbor, Curtis Hicks, who unlocked the garage door, but the boy died shortly afterward.

Cuyahoga Voters OK 2 Big School Issues

CLEVELAND (AP)—The two largest school bond issues in Cuyahoga County at Tuesday's primary election won approval of voters. Parma School District favored a $2,850,000 20-year bond issue and Bay Village OKd $1,475,000 for a new junior high school.

Ohio Democrat Vote Total Tops GOP

Taft shaded O'Neill in four central Ohio counties and came close in a handfull of others. But O'Neill beat Taft in the Cincinnati councilman's home county of Hamilton and outdistanced him in vote-heavy Cuyahoga County.

DiSalle beat six other Democratic candidates for nomination. Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze of Cleveland and his fellow townsman, Albert S. Porter, Cuyahoga County engineer, ran a close second and third. Robert N. Gorman of Cincinnati, Mayor Maynard E. Sensenbrenner of Columbus, Clingan Jackson of Youngstown and Mrs. Vivienne Suarez of Columbus trailed in that order.

The final count: DiSalle 241,577, Celebrezze 140,491, Porter 108,598, Gorman 58,285, Sensenbrenner 52,230, Jackson 35,277 and Suarez 7,364.

Lt. Gov. Paul M. Herbert, Republican incumbent, was the top vote-getter in the primary. His 471,912 votes contrasted with 36,612 for Dr. Joseph M. Centanni of Cleveland, Herbert's only Republican opposition.

John M. Donahey of Alliance paced a seven-man field to win the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor. The son of the late U. S. Sen. and Gov. A. V. Donahey received 174,931 votes. His closest rival, John J. Gallagher of Cleveland, got 153,208.

Other contestants finished in this order: John W. Peck of Cincinnati 76,258, Frank E. Smith of Portsmouth 56,665, Charles H. Hubbell of Cleveland 46,818, Albert T. Ball of Cleveland 26,343 and Roy E. Hopple of Columbus 18,645.

In another Democratic contest, for attorney general, Mark McElroy of Cleveland, former state senator, won with 232,674 votes. He outdistanced Paul F. Ward of Columbus with 174,881 and Marion A. Ross of Columbus with 101,123.

Atty. Gen. William Saxbe, Republican incumbent, was unopposed for nomination.

Former State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson won the Democratic nomination for state treasurer in the only other party race for state office. He polled 384,714 votes for high man among Democrats. John Brown, Lake County nursery worker, trailed with 164,277.

Republicans gaining renomination without opposition were U. S. Sen. John W. Bricker, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, Treasurer Roger W. Tracy and Ohio Supreme Court Judge James Garfield Stewart.

The GOP also nominated Willard Campbell of Columbus for judge of the Ohio Supreme Court without opposition.

Democrats nominated without opposition were Asher W. Sweeney of Salem secretary of state; former Congressman Stephen M. Young of Cleveland, U. S. senator; Ohio Supreme Court Judge Charles B. Zimmerman for reelection, and Merrill D. Brothers of Columbus for the Supreme Court.

Nominees will fight it out in the payoff election next Nov. 4. Candidates for elective statehouse offices, now held by Republicans, will be seeking four-year terms for the first time. They now serve two years.

Sixteen of the 33 state senators to be elected also will be up for four-year terms. The others seek two-year terms so that all state senators, starting in 1960, can be elected for four years on a staggered basis.

State and U. S. representatives will continue to serve for two years. Terms of U. S. senator and Ohio Supreme Court judges will continue for six years.

Housewife Drives Fire to Fire Station

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Rebecca Herman looked out of her house and saw smoke pouring from the family car. She ran to the car and saw part of the front seat ablaze. She drove a mile to the fire station, where firemen extinguished the blaze.

Play with Matches Is Fatal to Boy

DAYTON (AP)—Four-year-old Terry Jillison was fatally burned Wednesday while his frantic mother tried to break into a garage where he was trapped.

Police said the boy and two companions were playing with matches in a garage at the rear of a neighbor's home when the boy's clothes were ignited.

The two other children became panicky, police said, and in fleeing from the garage slammed the door, automatically locking it.

The boy was freed by the neighbor, Curtis Hicks, who unlocked the garage door, but the boy died shortly afterward.

Cuyahoga Voters OK 2 Big School Issues

CLEVELAND (AP)—The two largest school bond issues in Cuyahoga County at Tuesday's primary election won approval of voters. Parma School District favored a $2,850,000 20-year bond issue and Bay Village OKd $1,475,000 for a new junior high school.

Ohio Democrat Vote Total Tops GOP

Taft shaded O'Neill in four central Ohio counties and came close in a handfull of others. But O'Neill beat Taft in the Cincinnati councilman's home county of Hamilton and outdistanced him in vote-heavy Cuyahoga County.

DiSalle beat six other Democratic candidates for nomination. Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze of Cleveland and his fellow townsman, Albert S. Porter, Cuyahoga County engineer, ran a close second and third. Robert N. Gorman of Cincinnati, Mayor Maynard E. Sensenbrenner of Columbus, Clingan Jackson of Youngstown and Mrs. Vivienne Suarez of Columbus trailed in that order.

The final count: DiSalle 241,577, Celebrezze 140,491, Porter 108,598, Gorman 58,285, Sensenbrenner 52,230, Jackson 35,277 and Suarez 7,364.

Lt. Gov. Paul M. Herbert, Republican incumbent, was the top vote-getter in the primary. His 471,912 votes contrasted with 36,612 for Dr. Joseph M. Centanni of Cleveland, Herbert's only Republican opposition.

John M. Donahey of Alliance paced a seven-man field to win the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor. The son of the late U. S. Sen. and Gov. A. V. Donahey received 174,931 votes. His closest rival, John J. Gallagher of Cleveland, got 153,208.

Other contestants finished in this order: John W. Peck of Cincinnati 76,258, Frank E. Smith of Portsmouth 56,665, Charles H. Hubbell of Cleveland 46,818, Albert T. Ball of Cleveland 26,343 and Roy E. Hopple of Columbus 18,645.

In another Democratic contest, for attorney general, Mark McElroy of Cleveland, former state senator, won with 232,674 votes. He outdistanced Paul F. Ward of Columbus with 174,881 and Marion A. Ross of Columbus with 101,123.

Atty. Gen. William Saxbe, Republican incumbent, was unopposed for nomination.

Former State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson won the Democratic nomination for state treasurer in the only other party race for state office. He polled 384,714 votes for high man among Democrats. John Brown, Lake County nursery worker, trailed with 164,277.

Republicans gaining renomination without opposition were U. S. Sen. John W. Bricker, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, Treasurer Roger W. Tracy and Ohio Supreme Court Judge James Garfield Stewart.

The GOP also nominated Willard Campbell of Columbus for judge of the Ohio Supreme Court without opposition.

Democrats nominated without opposition were Asher W. Sweeney of Salem secretary of state; former Congressman Stephen M. Young of Cleveland, U. S. senator; Ohio Supreme Court Judge Charles B. Zimmerman for reelection, and Merrill D. Brothers of Columbus for the Supreme Court.

Nominees will fight it out in the payoff election next Nov. 4. Candidates for elective statehouse offices, now held by Republicans, will be seeking four-year terms for the first time. They now serve two years.

Sixteen of the 33 state senators to be elected also will be up for four-year terms. The others seek two-year terms so that all state senators, starting in 1960, can be elected for four years on a staggered basis.

State and U. S. representatives will continue to serve for two years. Terms of U. S. senator and Ohio Supreme Court judges will continue for six years.

Housewife Drives Fire to Fire Station

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Rebecca Herman looked out of her house and saw smoke pouring from the family car. She ran to the car and saw part of the front seat ablaze. She drove a mile to the fire station, where firemen extinguished the blaze.

Jumping into New U.S. Job Is Old Stuff to Flemming

By JOHN PASCAL

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—It's getting to be a habit for tall, wiry Arthur Flemming.

Just as he's getting settled down in the relatively calm job as president of Ohio Wesleyan University, off he pops to Washington to tackle another government assignment.

His latest: Secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

President Eisenhower has picked Dr. Flemming to succeed outgoing Secretary Marion Folsom.

In a way, it will almost be like going home for Flemming, a veteran Washington hand who has spent nearly half his 52 years in the nation's capital.

His most recent stint was as director of the Office of Defense Mobilization from 1953 until February 1957. His job automatically made him a member of the National Security Council and as such he was among the select few to sit in at presidential Cabinet meetings.

His move to the directorship of the ODM took him away completely from Ohio Wesleyan. For two years before that he was assistant to the director of defense mobilization, but somehow managed to stay at the helm of the Methodist school he has headed since 1948.

It was a gruelling schedule. On weekdays he lost himself in mountains of government work. On weekends he'd fly back here and put in two days of conferences with faculty members and committees, and perform any other work that required his attention.

His capacity for hard work is probably his outstanding characteristic, his friends say. Apart from his official duties either here or in Washington, Flemming heads, or is a member of, a score or more of civic, governmental and private organizations.

How does he do it? A keen, perceptive mind, for one thing, those who know him say. A certain Spartan discipline in his personal behavior, for another. He drinks no coffee, tea or other stimulants. And come what may, he gets eight hours of sleep a day.

Conjure up the standard prototype of a statesman and you've pictured Arthur Flemming. Tall, closely clipped gray hair, an impeccable, conservative dresser, a deep resonant voice that commands the listener's attention.

Flemming became Ohio Wesleyan's president Sept. 1, 1948 after some 21 years as an educator, government official, and newsman in Washington.

As a newsman he was on the editorial staff of the U. S. Daily, now the U. S. News and World Report, from 1930 to 1934, and was editor of Uncle Sam's Diary, a weekly current events newspaper for high school students, from 1932-1935.

During part of that time he had doubled as an instructor at American University in Washington, and was its director from 1934-1939.

From 1939 until he came to Ohio Wesleyan, Flemming served as Republican member of the Civil Service Commission. He was appointed to the post by President Roosevelt.

Flemming also served on the Hoover Commission studying the organization of the executive branch of the government. His work on the Naval Manpower Survey Board earned him the Distinguished Civilian Service Award.

Born in Kingston, N. Y., Flemming married the former Bernice V. Moler in 1934. They have five children.

Hard Landing Ends Need for Mercy Flight

TWENTYNINE PALMS, Calif. (AP) — When 2-year-old Frank Crouch swallowed a nickel, it lodged in his throat. He began to choke.

Doctors at Twentynine Palms Marine base, where Frank and his parents live, put the boy in a helicopter, fed him oxygen and sent him to a Riverside hospital.

After four minutes the pilot had trouble controlling the craft, and made a precautionary landing.

He went down hard — and so did the nickel. Frank could breathe again. Doctors said nature would solve the rest of the boy's problems.

6 Veteran State Legislators Shunned for Renominations

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio voters failed to renominate four state representatives and a state senator.

The House members defeated in Tuesday's primary were Earl Jenkins (R-Delaware), Virgil Perrill (R-Fayette), Arthur Milner (R-Highland) and John J. Lynch (D-Mahoning).

Perrill is serving his sixth term, Lynch his fifth and Milner his fourth.

Andrew C. Putka (D-Cuyahoga) was the senatorial incumbent who didn't get nominated.

Two state representatives and three others seeking nomination to the House were victorious as write-in candidates.

Rep. John M. Ashbrook was ruled off the ballot last February on a technicality, but the Licking County Republican received 64 per cent of the GOP vote cast in his county. Another Republican, Rep. Francis J. Heft of Monroe County did not file for renomination but won anyway.

The other three successful write-in nominees were Robert S. Ricksecker (D-Crawford), Wilmer V. Driggs (D-Guernsey) and Edwin Pitcock (R-Perry).

For 11 candidates, two for the Senate and nine for the House, the primary was all that was needed to send them to the Legislature. They will be unopposed in the November election.

The senatorial nominees are C. Stanley Mechem, Republican incumbent from Nelsonville, in the 9th-14th state senatorial district, and Tennyson Guyer, a Republican from the 30th-33rd district. Both terms are for two years.

A. G. Lancione, incumbent from Belmont County, was the only House Democrat to be assured of automatic victory in November.

The eight sure-victory Republican nominees, all incumbents, are Reps. Gail W. Porterfield of Knox County, George A. Meinhart of Meigs County, Kenneth L. Beckwith of Morgan County, Dale G. Hildebrand of Morrow County, Robert E. Zellar of Muskingum County, Edmund G. Games of Noble County, Dailey R. Turner of Seneca County and Charles F. Kurfess of Wood County.

23 Ohio Attorneys Slated for Honors

AKRON (AP)—The Ohio Bar Assn. at its annual meeting here May 22-24 will honor 17 of its members who this year complete 50 years as lawyers and 6 who were admitted to practice before the turn of the century.

Senior member to be honored is Morrison R. Waite of Cincinnati, who was admitted to practice in 1890. He will receive a life membership in the association in addition to a 65-year award.

Anthony B. Dunlap of Cincinnati and C. T. Marshall of Columbus who were admitted to the bar in 1892, also will receive 65-year awards. Three other members who were admitted in 1891 also will get 65-year awards—C. A. Bejeck of Cleveland, Frank F. Dinsmore of Cincinnati and Brandon R. Millikin of Hamilton.

FOR ATHLETE'S FOOT
USE T-4-L BECAUSE—
It sloughs off infected skin. Exposes more germs to its killing action. IN 1 HOUR, if not pleased with STRONG, instant drying T-4-L liquid, your 48c back at any drug store. Use T-4-L FOOT POWDER too—gives a film of antiseptic protection. Now at Circleville Rexall Drugs.

Doctors at Twentynine Palms Marine base, where Frank and his parents live, put the boy in a helicopter, fed him oxygen and sent him to a Riverside hospital.

After four minutes the pilot had trouble controlling the craft, and made a precautionary landing.

He went down hard — and so did the nickel. Frank could breathe again. Doctors said nature would solve the rest of the boy's problems.

6 Veteran State Legislators Shunned for Renominations

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio voters failed to renominate four state representatives and a state senator.

The House members defeated in Tuesday's primary were Earl Jenkins (R-Delaware), Virgil Perrill (R-Fayette), Arthur Milner (R-Highland) and John J. Lynch (D-Mahoning).

Perrill is serving his sixth term, Lynch his fifth and Milner his fourth.

Andrew C. Putka (D-Cuyahoga) was the senatorial incumbent who didn't get nominated.

Two state representatives and three others seeking nomination to the House were victorious as write-in candidates.

Rep. John M. Ashbrook was ruled off the ballot last February on a technicality, but the Licking County Republican received 64 per cent of the GOP vote cast in his county. Another Republican, Rep. Francis J. Heft of Monroe County did not file for renomination but won anyway.

The other three successful write-in nominees were Robert S. Ricksecker (D-Crawford), Wilmer V. Driggs (D-Guernsey) and Edwin Pitcock (R-Perry).

For 11 candidates, two for the Senate and nine for the House, the primary was all that was needed to send them to the Legislature. They will be unopposed in the November election.

The senatorial nominees are C. Stanley Mechem, Republican incumbent from Nelsonville, in the 9th-14th state senatorial district, and Tennyson Guyer, a Republican from the 30th-33rd district. Both terms are for two years.

A. G. Lancione, incumbent from Belmont County, was the only House Democrat to be assured of automatic victory in November.

The eight sure-victory Republican nominees, all incumbents, are Reps. Gail W. Porterfield of Knox County, George A. Meinhart of Meigs County, Kenneth L. Beckwith of Morgan County, Dale G. Hildebrand of Morrow County, Robert E. Zellar of Muskingum County, Edmund G. Games of Noble County, Dailey R. Turner of Seneca County and Charles F. Kurfess of Wood County.

Stan Musial Needs Only 7 More Hits

'The Man' Batting .529 in His Quest For 3000th Bingle

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Stan (The Man) Musial's magic number is 7.

Seven hits and he becomes the eighth major leaguer to total 3,000.

The way he's flying at the moment, batting a cool .529, he should join Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker, Honus Wagner, Eddie Collins, Nap Lajoie, Paul Waner and Cap Anson either Saturday or Sunday while swinging against the Chicago Cubs.

The only question at the moment is: What in the world will the St., Louis Cardinals do when Musial slumps?

They lost their seventh straight sinking 8½ games behind in the National League basement with a 9-2 licking from the Milwaukee Braves Wednesday night. Musial, who has hit in all 17 of the Cards' games this season in a run for his eighth batting crown, drove in both runs and collected three of their five hits off Lew Burdette.

The Braves stayed half a game behind Chicago's ambitious Cubs, who retained first place with a 5-1 victory over Cincinnati. San Francisco moved past Pittsburgh into third by beating the Pirates 8-6. Philadelphia belted Los Angeles 9-3.

Lefty Taylor Phillips won his first for the Cubs with a five-hitter in his first complete game since Aug. 31, 1956. He gave up the Redleg run in the first on Pete Whisenant's triple and a wild pitch. Brooks Lawrence lost his second.

Bob Friend lost his first in five decisions for the Pirates, giving way in a four-run fourth capped by rookie Bob Schmidt's three-run homer. Al Worthington won his second in relief of Curt Barclay, who gave up successive homers to Bob Skinner, Ted Kluszewski and Frank Thomas in the fifth, tying an often-tied major league record.

Curt Simmons became the first southpaw to beat Los Angeles this season. Carl Furillo homered the Dodger runs across in the third. Stan Lopata's solo homer tied it in the sixth and the Phils then whipped Fred Kipp with three in the seventh. Ted Kazanski's two-run single counted the clincher.

Cookie Lavagetto just missed marking his first anniversary as manager of the Washington Senators by moving into a share of the American League lead.

On May 7 last year Cookie replaced Chuck Dressen. The Senators were on the tail end of a losing streak that reached 10 games. They were last, 9½ games back.

Now they're second, a game behind the New York Yankees. Except for some great clutch pitching by Detroit's Frank Lary Wednesday night, Cookie and the Senators would have swept into a virtual first-place tie.

Lary was tagged for 13 hits and walked five but came up with eight strikeouts and left 14 runners on base as the Tigers ended a three-game slump with a 5-1 victory in the opener of a twi-night pair at Washington. The Senators then socked 15 hits in the nightcap for an 11-4 victory.

The rest of the AL scheduled was rained out.

Reno Bertoia's first major league grand-slam homer capped a five-run first for the Tigers in the opener against Camilo Pascual, who lost his second. Lary, now 2-2, lost his shutout bid in the ninth, when Eddie Yost opened with his first home run. Gail Harris singled the other Tiger run home.

Hal Griggs, a 29-year-old right-hander, struck out seven and won his first of the year in the nightcap. He had a three-hitter until the ninth, when the Tigers counted three runs on four hits—on Charlie Lau's two-run triple.

The Nats bagged it with five in the fifth off Tom Morgan.

County Meet Is Scheduled Today

The Pickaway County Athletic Assn. is crossing its fingers in hopes that the County Track Meet can be held today at the fairgrounds.

The meet will start at approximately 3 p.m. and run until all events have been completed.

Champion Miler May Be Finished

14—sports—6—Champion

LONDON (AP)—Is Derek Ibbotson, the world's fastest miler, all finished as a miler? He may be.

The merry Yorkshireman ran three four-minute miles last year, including the world's fastest, but ended the season in a dull, tired crawl.

He started off the 1958 season even slower.

Now he says: "I'm concentrating on the three mile and 5,000 meter races this year. I will run quite a few mile races, but I'm definitely concentrating on the three mile."

JOGGING ALONG — Pictured above are two owners and trainers who have a professional stable housed at the Pickaway County fairgrounds. On the left is Ernie Martin behind Go Pilot. Ernie's father, Porter, is on the right behind Pilot Zoom. Both pacers are owned by Martin and his son. Martin had 127 starts in 1957. He was first 21 times, second 19 and third, 15. They are putting their horses through a daily workout, jogging the wrong way of the track. Sunday more than 50 of the horses owned and trained locally will be pacing and trotting the right way of the track in the pre-season opener Junior Chamber of Commerce Spring Matinee. The event will be held at the fairgrounds starting at 1:30 p.m. (Photo by Beaver Studio)

Tiger Cindermen Second in SCOL

Circleville's undermanned cinder squad made a valiant effort but had to settle for second in the South Central Ohio League track meet held yesterday at Franklin Heights, Columbus.

Franklin Heights captured the meet with 49 points, Circleville was second with a heartbreaking 48, Washington C.H. had 44½, Greenfield 37½, Wilmington 24½ and Hillsboro 20½.

Circleville's Junior Denny, sidelined for the last two weeks with an ailing back muscle, participated yesterday, but was far under par. The speedy Tiger earned 13 points for CHS, but had to do it without winning a single first place.

It was a discouraging afternoon for Circleville and Denny who had defeated most of the league competitors during early season action. Coach Tom Bennett said Denny made a fine effort, but the back trouble still seemed to bother him.

* * *

THE Tigers captured four first places with Bill Johnson bringing home two of them in the mile and half mile runs. Larry Hannahs won the low hurdles and Gary Vandemarkwas top man in the 440-yard dash. Johnson and Hannahs each ended with 12 poknts for the day.

Johnson marked his best competitive time to date in the half mile by coming home in 2:12.0. His winning time in the mile was a commendable 4:56.8.

Hannars sped over the high hurdles in his best time ever a quick 16.1. He earned a second in the shot put.

Vandemark also recorded his best time in the 440-yard dash, crossing the finish line in 54.2.

CHS suffered a damaging blow when the half mile relay team was disqualified for passing the baton out of the required zone.

Record Pimlico Purse Expected

BALTIMORE (AP) — Pimlico officials are predicting the richest Preakness stake in its 82-year history May 17 now that two horse owners have sweetened the pot with $15,000 in nomination money.

Two checks for $7,500 arrived Wednesday making Isaac Blumberg's Lincoln Road and Dr. Peter Graffagnino's Noureddin supplemental entries for the mile and three-sixteenths event before the midnight deadline.

If 12 horses start in the $100,000-added Preakness, the winner will take down a record $98,500. Previous high was the $98,005 collected by Calumet Farm's Faultless in 1947.

Brown Seeks Another Foe After Handing Dupas a TKO

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Joe Brown, a thunderous puncher who won't let the other guy do any of it, looked toward the fifth defense of his world's lightweight championship today—but could only intimate who his opponent would be.

Joe, the skinny little guy from Houston, whipped young Ralph Dupas of New Orleans Wednesday night. He knocked him down three times in the eighth round to register a technical knockout. He has knocked out three other challengers in 16 months.

Brown predicted he would knock out Kenny Lane of Muskegon, Mich., sooner than he did Dupas. Lane is the logical man to fight Brown next. He and Dupas had to agree to negotiate for a fight with Lane before they could get together here.

Lou Viscusi, manager of Brown, was noncommittal. "I didn't see the fight and haven't talked to Joe. I've been busy counting money. I honestly can't say anything about future plans right now."

The fight — Houston's first world's championship affair — drew an all-time record gate for Texas. An estimated 11,000 fans paid $68,740.

Brown will get over $36,000 while Dupas will receive better than $18,000. The net was $60,614.60, which is added to $30,000 in radio and television receipts.

Brown's defense was a thing of beauty. Dupas landed only one real hard blow all night. Brown never started using his right until the fourth round. From then on he was using his one-two repeatedly and late in the seventh round it was this combination, with the right rocking Dupas like a sledgehammer, that started the 22-year-old New Orleans hopeful on the way out.

All-Star Cage Tour Squelched

NEW YORK (AP) — The projected European tour by a group of all-star college basketball players from the United States is off before it got started.

The idea was the brainchild of a Seattle psychologist, Sam Mossafer. But it was nipped by the National Amateur Athletic Union, which controls such matters.

Mossafer planned to line up a group of basketball aces including Wilt Chamberlain of Kansas, Elgin Baylor of Seatte, Don Hennon of Pittsburgh, Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati, Bob Boozer of Kansas State and others.

But the AAU quickly squelched the whole thing. Such trips, said AAU Secretary Jim Simms, must be cleared through the AAU.

Tribe, Yanks Try Again To Play Contest

NEW YORK (AP) — Stopped two days by rain, the Cleveland Indians and New York Yankees try again today for their first encounter of the season. But prospects that the game will be played are none too bright.

Following the postponement Wednesday, an official at Yankee Stadium said it may be several days before the baseball field is thoroughly dry.

"The mud is ankle deep in the outfield," he said. "Even if the sun finally comes out tomorrow (Thursday) morning it is doubtful the field will be playable by 2 o'clock."

But no promise of sunshine was given by the weather bureau.

Wednesday was the fifth consecutive day of rain here and the Yankees have had five games postponed.

"It's been so long since we played a game," moaned Casey Stengel, "I had to ask Edna (Mrs. Stengel) what was Berra's first name.

"And also how to spell Maglie and Cicotte. They haven't even pitched and here it is we're still leading the league without even playing."

Stengel was lamenting the fact that his Yankees have not played a game in a week—the last was last Friday when Bob Turley beat Kansas City's Athletics. They have been rained out in eight ball games in two weeks.

Stan Musial Needs Only 7 More Hits

'The Man' Batting .529 in His Quest For 3000th Bingle

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Stan (The Man) Musial's magic number is 7.

Seven hits and he becomes the eighth major leaguer to total 3,000.

The way he's flying at the moment, batting a cool .529, he should join Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker, Honus Wagner, Eddie Collins, Nap Lajoie, Paul Waner and Cap Anson either Saturday or Sunday while swinging against the Chicago Cubs.

The only question at the moment is: What in the world will the St. Louis Cardinals do when Musial slumps?

They lost their seventh straight sinking 8½ games behind in the National League basement with a 9-2 licking from the Milwaukee Braves Wednesday night. Musial, who has hit in all 17 of the Cards' games this season in a run for his eighth batting crown, drove in both runs and collected three of their five hits off Lew Burdette.

The Braves stayed half a game behind Chicago's ambitious Cubs, who retained first place with a 5-1 victory over Cincinnati. San Francisco moved past Pittsburgh into third by beating the Pirates 8-6. Philadelphia belted Los Angeles 9-3.

Lefty Taylor Phillips won his first for the Cubs with a five-hitter in his first complete game since Aug. 31, 1956. He gave up the Red-leg run in the first on Pete Whisenant's triple and a wild pitch. Brooks Lawrence lost his second.

Bob Friend lost his first in five decisions for the Pirates, giving way in a four-run fourth capped by rookie Bob Schmidt's three-run homer. Al Worthington won his second in relief of Curt Barclay, who gave up successive homers to Bob Skinner, Ted Kluszewski and Frank Thomas in the fifth, tying an often-tied major league record.

Curt Simmons became the first southpaw to beat Los Angeles this season. Carl Furillo homered the Dodger runs across in the third. Stan Lopata's solo homer tied it in the sixth and the Phils then whipped Fred Kipp with three in the seventh. Ted Kazanski's two-run single counted the clincher.

Cookie Lavagetto just missed marking his first anniversary as manager of the Washington Senators by moving into a share of the American League lead.

On May 7 last year Cookie replaced Chuck Dressen. The Senators were on the tail end of a losing streak that reached 10 games. They were last, 9½ games back.

Now they're second, a game behind the New York Yankees. Except for some great clutch pitching by Detroit's Frank Lary Wednesday night, Cookie and the Senators would have swept into a virtual first-place tie.

Lary was tagged for 13 hits and walked five but came up with eight strikeouts and left 14 runners on base as the Tigers ended a three-game slump with a 5-1 victory in the opener of a twi-night pair at Washington. The Senators then socked 15 hits in the nightcap for an 11-4 victory.

The rest of the AL scheduled was rained out.

Reno Bertoia's first major league grand-slam homer capped a five-run first for the Tigers in the opener against Camilo Pascual, who lost his second. Lary, now 2-2, lost his shutout bid in the ninth, when Eddie Yost opened with his first home run. Gail Harris singled the other Tiger run home.

Hal Griggs, a 29-year-old right-hander, struck out seven and won his first of the year in the nightcap. He had a three-hitter until the ninth, when the Tigers counted three runs on four hits—on Charlie Lau's two-run triple.

The Nats bagged it with five in the fifth off Tom Morgan.

County Meet Is Scheduled Today

The Pickaway County Athletic Assn. is crossing its fingers in hopes that the County Track Meet can be held today at the fairgrounds.

The meet will start at approximately 3 p.m. and run until all events have been completed.

Champion Miler May Be Finished

14—sports—6—Champion

LONDON (AP)—Is Derek Ibbotson, the world's fastest miler, all finished as a miler? He may be.

The merry Yorkshireman ran three four-minute miles last year, including the world's fastest, but ended the season in a dull, tired crawl.

He started off the 1958 season even slower.

Now he says: "I'm concentrating on the three mile and 5,000 meter races this year. I will run quite a few mile races, but I'm definitely concentrating on the three mile."

JOGGING ALONG — Pictured above are two owners and trainers who have a professional stable housed at the Pickaway County fairgrounds. On the left is Ernie Martin behind Go Pilot. Ernie's father, Porter, is on the right behind Pilot Zoom. Both pacers are owned by Martin and his son. Martin had 127 starts in 1957. He was first 21 times, second 19 and third, 15. They are putting their horses through a daily workout, jogging the wrong way of the track. Sunday more than 50 of the horses owned and trained locally will be pacing and trotting the right way of the track in the pre-season opener Junior Chamber of Commerce Spring Matinee. The event will be held at the fairgrounds starting at 1:30 p.m. (Photo by Beaver Studio)

Tiger Cindermen Second in SCOL

Circleville's undermanned cinder squad made a valiant effort but had to settle for second in the South Central Ohio League track meet held yesterday at Franklin Heights, Columbus.

Franklin Heights captured the meet with 49 points, Circleville was second with a heartbreaking 48, Washington C.H. had 44½, Greenfield 37½, Wilmington 24½ and Hillsboro 20½.

Circleville's Junior Denny, sidelined for the last two weeks with an ailing back muscle, participated yesterday, but was far under par. The speedy Tiger earned 13 points for CHS, but had to do it without winning a single first place.

It was a discouraging afternoon for Circleville and Denny who had defeated most of the league competitors during early season action. Coach Tom Bennett said Denny made a fine effort, but the back trouble still seemed to bother him.

* * *

THE Tigers captured four first places with Bill Johnson bringing home two of them in the mile and half mile runs. Larry Hannahs won the low hurdles and Gary Vandemarkwas top man in the 440-yard dash. Johnson and Hannahs each ended with 12 poknts for the day.

Johnson marked his best competitive time to date in the half mile by coming home in 2:12.0. His winning time in the mile was a commendable 4:56.8.

Hannars sped over the high hurdles in his best time ever a quick 16.1. He earned a second in the shot put.

Vandemark also recorded his best time in the 440-yard dash, crossing the finish line in 54.2.

CHS suffered a damaging blow when the half mile relay team was disqualified for passing the baton out of the required zone.

Record Pimlico Purse Expected

BALTIMORE (AP) — Pimlico officials are predicting the richest Preakness stake in its 82-year history May 17 now that two horse owners have sweetened the pot with $15,000 in nomination money.

Two checks for $7,500 arrived Wednesday making Isaac Blumberg's Lincoln Road and Dr. Peter Graffagnino's Noureddin supplemental entries for the mile and three-sixteenths event before the midnight deadline.

If 12 horses start in the $100,000-added Preakness, the winner will take down a record $98,500. Previous high was the $98,005 collected by Calumet Farm's Faultless in 1947.

Brown Seeks Another Foe After Handing Dupas a TKO

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Joe Brown, a thunderous puncher who won't let the other guy do any of it, looked toward the fifth defense of his world's lightweight championship today—but could only intimate who his opponent would be.

Joe, the skinny little guy from Houston, whipped young Ralph Dupas of New Orleans Wednesday night. He knocked him down three times in the eighth round to register a technical knockout. He has knocked out three other challengers in 16 months.

Brown predicted he would knock out Kenny Lane of Muskegon, Mich., sooner than he did Dupas. Lane is the logical man to fight Brown next. He and Dupas had to agree to negotiate for a fight with Lane before they could get together here.

Lou Viscusi, manager of Brown, was noncommittal. "I didn't see the fight and haven't talked to Joe. I've been busy counting money. I honestly can't say anything about future plans right now."

The fight — Houston's first world's championship affair — drew an all-time record gate for Texas. An estimated 11,000 fans paid $68,740.

Brown will get over $36,000 while Dupas will receive better than $18,000. The net was $60,-614.60, which is added to $30,000 in radio and television receipts.

Brown's defense was a thing of beauty. Dupas landed only one real hard blow all night. Brown never started using his right until the fourth round. From then on he was using his one-two repeatedly and late in the seventh round it was this combination, with the right rocking Dupas like a sledgehammer, that started the 22-year-old New Orleans hopeful on the way out.

All-Star Cage Tour Squelched

NEW YORK (AP) — The projected European tour by a group of all-star college basketball players from the United States is off before it got started.

The idea was the brainchild of a Seattle psychologist, Sam Mossafer. But it was nipped by the National Amateur Athletic Union, which controls such matters.

Mossafer planned to line up a group of basketball aces including Wilt Chamberlain of Kansas, Elgin Baylor of Seatte, Don Hennon of Pittsburgh, Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati, Bob Boozer of Kansas State and others.

But the AAU quickly squelched the whole thing. Such trips, said AAU Secretary Jim Simms, must be cleared through the AAU.

Tribe, Yanks Try Again To Play Contest

NEW YORK (AP) — Stopped two days by rain, the Cleveland Indians and New York Yankees try again today for their first encounter of the season. But prospects that the game will be played are none too bright.

Following the postponement Wednesday, an official at Yankee Stadium said it may be several days before the baseball field is thoroughly dry.

"The mud is ankle deep in the outfield," he said. "Even if the sun finally comes out tomorrow (Thursday) morning it is doubtful the field will be playable by 2 o'clock."

But no promise of sunshine was given by the weather bureau.

Wednesday was the fifth consecutive day of rain here and the Yankees have had five games postponed.

"It's been so long since we played a game," moaned Casey Stengel, "I had to ask Edna (Mrs. Stengel) what was Berra's first name.

"And also how to spell Maglie and Cicotte. They haven't even pitched and here it is we're still leading the league without even playing."

Stengel was lamenting the fact that his Yankees have not played a game in a week—the last was last Friday when Bob Turley beat Kansas City's Athletics. They have been rained out in eight ball games in two weeks.

To Sell or Not To Sell!
Now is the time to decide.

There is still time to get a fair price for your home. How long this market will last, I can't say. It is the "law of supply and demand" that sets the prices . . . PLUS man's financial ability.

In Real Estate it is "turn overs" not "hold overs" that makes for profit.

Hatfield can still sell your property at a good market price.

Hatfield will not agree to get you a GLORIOUS PRICE for your property . . . but he will assure you MARKET VALUE in a reasonable time.

Doctors Baffled By Bleeding Case

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Eva Newton has been bleeding steadily for 10 weeks, apparently from some blood vessel deep in the body.

The 46-year-old Arcadia woman is a hemophilia victim. Doctors have been unable to locate the source of the bleeding. They cannot perform an exploratory operation because of the nature of the malady.

Miss Newton has required transfusion of a pint of blood a day since late February to replace that lost through bleeding.

Hemophilia is a condition characterized by excessive bleeding, due to failure of blood to clot.

Scout Group To Meet

Youth Appears In Court Here

The fifth member of a juvenile burglary ring, apprehended here several weeks ago, appeared in Pickaway County Juvenile Court yesterday.

The 16-year-old youth was placed on three years probation by Juvenile Judge Guy Cline. Four other juveniles, all students at Circleville High School, appeared in the local court soon after their apprehension.

Judge Cline also ordered the youth sent to the Juvenile Diagnostic Center, Columbus, for clinical observation.

Upon completion of these tests, the Diagnostic center will make references to the local court as to the boy's disposition. The Juvenile Center is under the Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction.

Methodist YF Taps Laughlin For President

According to a letter from The Conference Youth Director of The Ohio Conference of The Methodist Church, Austin Laughlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Azel Laughlin, 539 N. Court St., has been elected as the president of Ohio Conference Methodist Youth Fellowship.

The Ohio Conference is the largest in Methodism, marking a high honor for Laughlin. As president he will attend the Annual Conference to be held at Lakeside June 6-8.

In addition to being elected conference president, he has been named president of the Chillicothe District of the Methodist Church. Austin has served on the district council as citizenship chairman and as vice president.

Other honors coming his direction was the winning of the Pickaway county "Prince of Peace" contest for the last two years. He also won the district "Temperance Essay" contest.

Laughlin served as the president of the Circleville High School Hi-Y during the last year. He is a member of the senior class and at present his plans are incomplete as far as college is concerned.

Worker Survives Burial by Cavein

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—A sewer wall caved in on Hank Washington Wednesday and buried him under four feet of dirt. Rescuers dug him out 20 minutes later.

The husky, 45-year-old was rushed to a hospital but released after an examination. A hospital spokesman said he suffered no injuries whatsoever.

The 6-1, 200-pound Washington said he never lost consciousness. But he added: "It was 40 years to me. I always breathed. I know I believe in God, because that's the only thing that saved me. God had them working."

AUSTIN LAUGHLIN

Young Victor For Senator

E. M. Young won the Democratic nomination for the four year term as state senator in Tuesday's election. He polled a total of 21,143 votes in the 10th senatorial district — Franklin and Pickaway Counties.

His opposition, James Riggin received 14,090 votes.

Nominee for the two-year term is Thomas O'Shaughnessy who polled a total of 16,680 votes in the district. No. 2 man was John Bowers with 10,256 votes. Other candidates and their vote were John J. Foley, 8,347; Michael Desmond, 4,320, and Russell Volkema, 2,001.

Last-Hour Decision Stalls Aircraft Worker Walkout

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A last-hour decision headed off a strike of 98,300 aircraft workers set for midnight Wednesday.

But the strike threat had not been erased today.

The International Assn. of Machinists and United Auto Workers agreed to continue talks with Convair, Douglas Aircraft Corp. and North American Aviation, Inc. for an indefinite period.

"We can set another strike deadline just like that," said a union official, snapping his fingers.

With negotiations continuing, union members at Convair, Douglas and North American will be working without contracts. Their contracts expired at midnight.

At Marietta, Ga., union members of the Lockheed Aircraft Corp. plant struck and organized picket lines today after turning down a company offer for a new contract.

A spokesman for Lockheed, which employs 13,000 in its Georgia division, said the plant would remain in operation.

Lockheed's California division reached a tentative agreement with the IAM Wednesday. The Georgia plant is under a different contract.

The IAM and UAW contracts expired at midnight local time. Plants in Fort Worth, Tex., Columbus, Ohio; Tulsa, Okla.; Charlotte, N. C.; and Tucson, Ariz., would have been affected by a walkout.

The Lockheed offer tentatively accepted by union negotiators calls for wage and benefit increases ranging from 18 to 30 cents an hour and averaging nearly 22 cents. It includes a cost-of-living increase already in effect at the other companies' plants. It is subject to approval by union workers.

Convair, North American and Douglas last week offered a basic hourly wage increase of from 2 to 11 cents in a two-year contract. There would be a 3 per cent increase at the end of the first year.

The unions have been asking for raises of 7 to 14 cents and a 4 per cent raise next year. Present scales range from $1.63 to $2.75 an hour.

Circleville PTA Assn. Plans Meeting Tonight

The Circleville general Parent-Teachers Assn. will meet today at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

The program will consist of annual installation of officers and musical entertainment under the direction of Truman Eberly.

Doctors Baffled By Bleeding Case

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Eva Newton has been bleeding steadily for 10 weeks, apparently from some blood vessel deep in the body.

The 46-year-old Arcadia woman is a hemophilia victim. Doctors have been unable to locate the source of the bleeding. They cannot perform an exploratory operation because of the nature of the malady.

Miss Newton has required transfusion of a pint of blood a day since late February to replace that lost through bleeding.

Hemophilia is a condition characterized by excessive bleeding, due to failure of blood to clot.

Scout Group To Meet

James A Petrillo as president of the American Federation of Musicians draws a salary of $46,000 a year. This includes several additional jobs he has other than the A.F.M.

Youth Appears In Court Here

The fifth member of a juvenile burglary ring, apprehended here several weeks ago, appeared in Pickaway County Juvenile Court yesterday.

The 16-year-old youth was placed on three years probation by Juvenile Judge Guy Cline. Four other juveniles, all students at Circleville High School, appeared in the local court soon after their apprehension.

Judge Cline also ordered the youth sent to the Juvenile Diagnostic Center, Columbus, for clinical observation.

Upon completion of these tests, the Diagnostic center will make references to the local court as to the boy's disposition. The Juvenile Center is under the Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction.

Worker Survives Burial by Cavein

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—A sewer wall caved in on Hank Washington Wednesday and buried him under four feet of dirt. Rescuers dug him out 20 minutes later.

The husky, 45-year-old was rushed to a hospital but released after an examination. A hospital spokesman said he suffered no injuries whatsoever.

The 6-1, 200-pound Washington said he never lost consciousness. But he added: "It was 40 years to me. I always breathed. I know I believe in God, because that's the only thing that saved me. God had them working."

Granges Observe Rural Life Sunday
